TIME HAS COME TO STOP DUMPING OF SEWAGE INTO LAKE

City Engineer, in Annual Report, Sounds a Note of Warning.

Nineteen Outlet Sewers Now Pouring Pollution Into Drinking Water.

Recommends That Survey Be Made for Intercepting System.

 FEATURES OF CITY ENGINEER'S ANNUAL REPORT *****
Recommends immediate beginning of sewage system to prevent pollution of drinking water. Advises topographical survey of the city.
Favors sandstone block or brick pavement districts on economic grounds. Plans that Duluth pavements cost less than those of many other cities.
Reports total cost of work done under department's direction in 1911 to have been $322,763.48. Estimates cost of engineering in percentage of completed work, less than 3 per cent.
Forecasts that in not very distant future roads now being built out of city will have street car lines, part of them connecting with towns on the iron ranges.

Thomas F. McGilvray, city engineer, in his annual report for 1911, recommends that plans be started at the earliest possible moment for a sewer system which will prevent the pollution of the city's supply of drinking water.

The engineer sees in the present conditions a growing menace to the health of the community. He declares that with nineteen outlets now discharging into the lake, and the increasing number of outlets in the city, it is only a matter of time before the waters about the intake pipe will be thoroughly and completely contaminated with matter from the sewers. He states that already the health department has found traces of contamination and declares that no time should be lost.

Although recognizing the expense, the engineer recommends that funds be provided for a survey for a system of intercepting sewers paralleling the lake and bay front. This sewer would be designed to convey the contents of the city's sewage to a modern filtering and purifying plant, so that the effluent would be pure and fit for use in the lake. He thinks that probably the uninhabited portion of Park

Little Prospect of Wage Agreement Seen at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—With little prospect of reaching an agreement on a wage scale to become effective April 1, the bituminous coal operators and miners resumed their joint conference here today. The miners are demanding increases of cents a ton and 20 per cent for day labor, while the operators have offered a reduction of the present wages by the same figures.

Talk of a general strike was rife about the bituminous miners' headquarters, but met opposition from the anthracite miners, who believe better results will be obtained if they and the bituminous men try to make arrangements with their operators independently.

ITALIANS SEIZE BRITISH LAUNCH

Boat Under White Flag Captures Craft Intended for Turks.

Hodeida, Red Sea, Jan. 29.—The Italian cruiser Piemonte, belonging to the squadron of cruisers searching the coasts of the Red sea for vessels carrying contraband to the Turkish troops stationed in Arabia, came to anchor off Ras Ketchib, about nine miles from this city yesterday. She lowered a boat flying the white flag, which entered the bay and captured a motor launch belonging to Thornycroft & Co., which was flying the British flag.

Thornycroft & Co. have supplied a considerable number of these launches to the Turkish government for use in the revenue service, and this small craft was about to be handed over for the same purpose.

RIOTING IN MILL STRIKE

Several Persons Seriously Hurt When Street Cars Are Attacked.

Women Cheer Men on to Violence at Lawrence, Mass.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 29.—Serious rioting occurred today when a crowd of strikers attempted to prevent operations from entering the various textile mills to resume work. In many cases the strikers were successful and the mills that reopened were able to operate only on a greatly reduced scale. Several persons were seriously injured during the trouble.

The rioters held up some twenty or more electric cars headed in the direction of the mill, forced the passengers to leave the cars and then assaulted them in the belief that they were strike-breakers. Bottles and chunks of ice were thrown in the windows.

The rioting began an hour before the time for the opening of the mill gates. The mob was composed mostly of foreigners and many women, who cheered the men on to violence. The police were powerless to end the disorder.

Entrance to the mill district by the marchers was prevented by the militia stationed in streets bordering the mills.

POOR SHOOTING SPOILS HIS PLAN

Brooklyn Man Fails to Kill Wife's Companion After Long Chase.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 29.—Traveling all the way from Brooklyn to this city to get a shot at his wife's companion, Charles Johnson, a structural iron worker, found where they lived yesterday, and last night crawled through a window and opened fire. Harold Gunderson, a steward, stopped a bullet with his left leg and, grappling with Johnson, wrested the revolver from him and threw it into an alley. Johnson was arrested.

STARVATION CASE ON THIRD WEEK

Nurse in Hazzard Institution Undergoes Cross-Examination.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 29.—The third week of the trial of Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, accused of having starved to death Miss Claire Williamson, joint heiress with her sister, Dorothea, to a $300,000 Australian estate, was begun today at Port Orchard.

Miss Nellie Sherman, employed by Mrs. Hazzard to nurse the Williamson sisters while undergoing their fasting treatment in Seattle, and one of the most important witnesses for the defense, took the stand for cross-examination today, her direct examination having been completed Saturday.

WOLTER DIES IN SING SING

Leaves Note Protesting He Did Not Kill Ruth Wheeler.

Writes That He Is Victim of Circumstantial Evidence.

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Albert Wolter was put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison at 5:41 o'clock this morning for the murder of 15-year-old Ruth Wheeler, nearly two years ago. The girl came to Wolter's flat in New York in search of employment and he killed her after she had been mistreated.

Wolter left a statement with Warden Kennedy denying his guilt and claiming to be the victim of circumstantial evidence. The execution was without failure and Wolter was declared dead after one contact of 1,960 volts. The state electrician said that Wolter showed less resistance to the electric current than any murderer put to death by electricity at Sing Sing prison.

The murderer spent his last night quietly, resting only part of the time, but waiting with stolid nerves the final execution of his crime.

Visited by Parents.
The visit of Wolter's aged parents, who came up from New York Sunday, was affecting, but the doomed youth went through it without emotion. The mother collapsed in her son's arms when she met him, and cried bitterly. His parents were with him until the end.

ISHPEMING GIRL WOULD JOIN ARMY

Tries to Enlist as Man to Join Her Lover's Battery.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 29.—A comely young woman who admitted her name to be Gladys Glendinning of Ishpeming, Mich., dressed in male attire, called at the United States army recruiting station here today. She gave her name as Charles Johnstone, and declared she wanted to enlist in the army. Her hair had been shingled, and in her new suit of clothes she made a good appearance of a boy of 20 years.

The recruiting sergeant filled out the necessary blanks for her enlistment, and then told her to step into an adjoining room for a physical examination. She entered the room, where she was told to strip. The girl removed her coat.

"That's all that is necessary, isn't it?" she asked.

"Peel down to the hide, kid," was the rejoinder.

She hesitated, stammered and blushed, then began to cry. She admitted to the examiner that she was a girl. She said that her lover is an artilleryman, stationed at Presidio, Cal. She declared she wanted to enlist and get assigned to his company.

She was advised to seek appointment as a nurse in the medical corps, and today she left for San Francisco with that intention.

The answers are a general denial, as far as these defendants are concerned.

SEIZURE OF CANAL ZONE

Representative Rainey Re-opens Fight on Method of Its Acquisition.

But Nobody Would Turn Back History as It Affects Panama.

(By Willis J. Abbot.)
Washington, Jan. 29.—Specialist to The Herald.—Representative Rainey of Illinois has opened again the fight on the method by which William Nelson Cromwell and Theodore Roosevelt seized for the United States the Panama canal zone. It shows courage, but Rainey is recognized as one of the most courageous men in the house. He has been fought by both the Roosevelt and the Taft administrations because of his insistence upon his conviction that the republic of Panama was founded upon intrigue by the government of the United States; that the state of Colombia was robbed of its territory by our own government; and that William Nelson Cromwell utilized his influence with the Roosevelt administration to effect the sale of the rights of the French company in the Panama zone to the United States at a prodigious profit.

Protruly Rainey is right. If there is any man in the house who has studied

EXPECT SENATE TO KEEP TARIFF UP

Mineral Producers Will Make Fight in That Body.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 29.—John Doin, president of the American Mining congress, in an interview, said today that an organized effort has been going on for some time to block the passage of the measure in the lower house of congress, and realizing this the mineral producers will concentrate their strength on the senate. The American Mining congress issued a call to its members and others interested to use their efforts to bring the necessary amount of pressure upon the senate. The work will be directed from the headquarters of the congress in Chicago. Commercial bodies in mineral producing states will be asked to aid in the work.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 29.—Home rule would be the worst possible thing that could befall Ireland, is the opinion of Lord Talbot de Malahide of Dublin, member of the house of lords, who is touring this country and is in El Paso today. The credit and resources of Ireland would be impaired, he said, and England would be powerless to render assistance.

PURE WATER HENRY ROLLS UP SLEEVES FOR ANOTHER FIGHT

Former Mayor Truelsen Returns Home "Younger Than Ever."

Promises to Add Fireworks to Battle on Lighting Bonds.

"I am a Servant of the People," He Says.

The fireworks are ready to be touched off. Henry Truelsen is in Duluth.

"We must drive the corporations out of politics," declared Mr. Truelsen this morning and that is the slogan he will carry through this week's campaign in favor of the municipal electric light bonding question.

Out in Zenith, N. D., where he has made his home for nine years, Mr. Truelsen says he heard the call of the people of Duluth.

"I had to make sacrifices to come, but I thought to myself: If the bonds are beaten and I might have done something to help carry them, I will never forgive myself," he declared.

He is the servant of the people of Duluth wherever I am, and I am now here to serve them.

Younger than ever and just as much a fighter, was Mr. Truelsen's reply to an inquiry as to his health. He really does look younger than he did nine years ago when he left Duluth on the subject of public service corporations, his eye lights up, his voice is elevated and he declares an undying enmity to the corporation in politics in unmistakable terms.

STREET CAR RUNS AWAY IN ST. PAUL

Score Are Hurt, Two Seriously—Motorman Loses Leg.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald).—A Selly avenue street car ran away on the grade below the tunnel shortly after 8 o'clock a. m. today and crashed into another Selly car filled with passengers at Seven Corners. A score of persons were slightly injured, two seriously. Seriously injured.

Motorman Swanson of the runaway car, leg severed.

Mark Graft, chest crushed.

Among the less serious hurt are: Miss Blanche Bouquet, face cut; John H. Johnson, head cut.

There were no passengers in the car that ran away down the incline, the car being known as a "not in service" car. The vestibule of the car, reduced to splinters from the impact, took fire from the stove, the blaze bringing down the car.

Swanson declares his "air" failed to work. He lost control in the tunnel. Swanson's leg was cut off as cleanly as if it had been done with a buzz saw. There was a condition bordering on panic in the filled car, but there were no injuries due to this.

TAFT TOURING CITIES IN OHIO

Cleveland, Columbus and Akron Are on Short Trip Schedule.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 29.—Invading a hotbed of national politics, President Taft crossed the line into Ohio early today. He was due to arrive here at 11:20 o'clock, this being his first scheduled stop on a tour of the state which will consume three days.

In addition to Cleveland, Columbus and Akron are promised visits, Mr. Taft spending tomorrow and part of Wednesday in the former and Wednesday afternoon and evening in the latter city.

After being met at the Euclid avenue station by a committee, it was planned to escort the president to his hotel, whence he later would go to the chamber of commerce for an address to its members and to be the guest at a private luncheon given by President Charles E. Adams.

CITY CAMPAIGN IS SHOWING REAL WARMTH

Democrats, Republicans and Socialists Have Many Meetings Planned.

Bates Slated for Chief of Police If McCuen Is Elected.

This is to be a busy week for the politicians. Republicans, Democrats and Socialists have arranged meetings for almost every evening, and in addition to that, Henry Truesen is here to lead a red-hot campaign in favor of the municipal electric light plant bonds.

At the hall at thirty-ninth avenue west and First street tonight, Mayor M. B. Cullum will reply to the attacks made on him Saturday evening by Dr. McCuen and other speakers at the meeting of the West Duluth Republican club. The mayor will take up the question of the enforcement of the liquor laws and the vice question and will defend his position on them.

The mayor's other speaking engagements for the week have not been definitely arranged. Wednesday evening will be given over to a non-political meeting for the discussion of fire prevention at the Commercial club. Thursday evening the mayor will address a meeting that has not been definitely arranged. Friday evening he will address the French Naturalization club of the West end and Saturday evening he will probably go to New Duluth.

In connection with the contest for mayor, talk of appointments has begun to crop out. One subject of conversation is the rumor that W. J. Bates, former sheriff, is slated for chief of police in the event of McCuen's election. Probable appointments to other offices are also being mentioned and they will probably have a bearing in the campaign.

Ward and precinct organizations are busy. Ward meetings are being held every evening and the precinct captains have a good working organization in each party. The effectiveness of the organizations is shown by the heavy registration. Nearly 11,000 voters are registered and an unusually heavy vote may be expected.

Dr. J. A. McCuen, the Republican candidate for mayor, made an attack on Mayor Cullum's position on taxation, the saloon question and the social evil, at a meeting of the West Duluth Republican club. Dr. McCuen said that although the tax rate has been reduced, the amount of money being paid by taxpayers remains unchanged on account of increases in valuation. He said special privileges are being extended to saloon keepers and that the social evil is spread all over the city. Other speakers were Mason M. Forbes, Frank E. Randall, George J. Maloney, Emil J. Zaut and L. A. Barnes.

C. L. Hood and A. H. Deeks were the speakers at the meeting of the Fifth Ward Republican club in Foresters' hall Saturday evening. Dr. Hood talked on taxation and urged the election of Dr. McCuen and Dr. Konkler, the Republican candidate for mayor. He said that the Republican club of the Fifth ward has not been given its share of public improvements.

Tomorrow evening the Young Men's Republican club will hold a meeting at Foresters' hall. The Fifth Ward Republican club of Duluth Heights will hold a meeting at the fire hall in that suburb Friday evening. The last Fifth ward meeting of Republicans will be held at Foresters' hall next Monday evening.

Rev. John Walker Powell, pastor of Union M. E. church, prefaced his sermon yesterday with an endorsement of the proposed charter amendment providing for a public welfare board. He said it is a move in the right direction.

The Socialists have arranged seven meetings for this week. John A. Johnson, the party's candidate for mayor, is slated for chief of police, but other good speakers will address the voters at each meeting. Tonight at Toverilla hall, 438 Lake avenue south, Richard Jones, candidate for alderman in the Fourth ward, W. E. Towne, candidate for alderman in the Third ward, and David Robertson will be the speakers. Tomorrow evening at Great Western hall, Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street, Edward Blackwood, Charles P. Carlson and Morris Kaplan will be the speakers. Wednesday evening the meeting will be held at 822 Mesaba avenue and on Friday evening meetings will be held at Victor hall, West Duluth and Swedish Mission church, Seventeenth avenue east and London road.

FREE CONCERT IS ENJOYED

Miss Heymar and Miss Brown Are Soloists at Masonic Entertainment.

The free concert given yesterday afternoon at the auditorium of the Masonic temple, was another decidedly successful event. The audience filled every available inch of space and was exceptionally appreciative. The music was delightful and satisfactory and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. To give the audience an opportunity to get settled before the first piece began, Sousa's "Stars and Stripes" march was played to great applause and after the late comers were seated Miss Mary Heymar, violinist, and Miss Alice Brown, pianist, played the selections from "Madame Butterfly," in an artistic and thoroughly enjoyable manner. The artists playing for an encore the beautiful "Dumpling Song" in which the soloists were especially noticeable and Miss Brown's art as a perfect accompanist was marked. The vocalist sang "Carrie Jacobson's Perfect Day," without mannerisms or affectation; her voice is a pure contralto and her rendition of the song was a pleasure to hear. For an encore she sang "Edelweiss," which was a perfect artistic manner. Miss Heymar then played a violin solo, a Hungarian piece by Hubay, which while difficult in execution was mastered easily and the technique was faultless. The slow parts being feelingly played and the faster ones with a light and sprightly touch. Miss Heymar seems to play for the joy of playing, in which her facial expression and pose are a part of the music itself. With the grace of a dancer, she possessed the power of the male violinist. As an encore to the Hungarian selection the violinist played Godard's "Rhapsodie" from Jocelyn, in which the exquisite beauty of the melody was given artistic expression. Without any desire to make comparisons, it must be said that the piece which brought out the most continued and loudest applause was Mr. Cushman's newest composition, "The Fiddler's Ghost," with words by Stanton, the dialect poet of the South. It was sung by Miss Alice Brown. Miss Heymar playing the violin obligato and the composer himself at the piano. It was a delightfully executed and artistically conceived composition in which voice, violin and piano were each called into service with beautiful effect, and while all are to be congratulated, the composer must go the largest share of the compliments.

In addition to the extra Sousa number, the organ selections were Elgar's military march, "Pomp and Circumstance," which was given twice by the organ to good effect. The next was under the colored name of "Ex Corde," and was really a combination of old songs, which everybody knows and everybody enjoys. The last of the organ selections was a splendidly executed, although towards the end one of the little more Wagnerian than Wagner, it was a very pleasing and creditable concert, thoroughly enjoyed by the special guests and the audience, who occupied reserved seats in the gallery, as well as the rest of the audience.

Are your folks warm enough?

What kind of a home do you serve up to your folks? Is it as "stun-cold" as a frozen pudding and seasoned with ashes, dust, soot, or other unwholesome things, from some old-fashioned gas-leaking, ash-spouting "tin monster in the cellar?" Or is it still worse from fuel-greedy stoves upstairs and down? If so, put these enemies to health and happiness out of the house! Put in an outfit of our

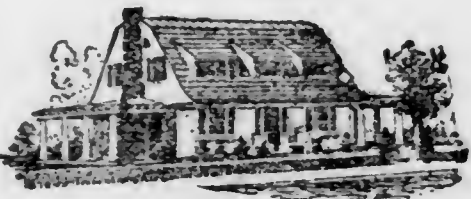

FROZEN HOME WITH COLD SAUCE

Then you will serve up to your loved ones a home free from chill, dust, dirt and odors a domicile of delight, thoroughly protected against wind and weather. Cleaning work reduced one-half, and the damage done to furnishings prevented—our outfits do much to free the women from house-drudgery.

You get just the degree of heat wanted, where most needed, and no needless burning of coal.

A No. W-15-IDEAL Boiler and 644 ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $225, were used to heat the cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include costs of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which are extra and vary according to climate and other conditions.

Our IDEAL Boilers are built to burn all kinds of fuel—hard, soft, lignite, pea, wood or gas. They are self-regulated and require no running up and down stairs to change the dampers. City water connection not required. The work and fuel required by one stove-fire will in many cases warm the whole house. No parts to wear out, warp or crack—outlast the building.

If you want to serve up genuine ideal comfort to your dear ones, and season it with health, cleanness and least caretaking, send for catalog, "Ideal Heating" (mailed free). Prices are now most attractive.

IDEAL Boilers make every pound of fuel do its utmost heating work. They do not rust out or wear out—hence are a paying, lasting investment.

We have also brought out the first genuinely practical, automatic, durable Vacuum Cleaner. The machine sets in the cellar, and all the dirt it so thoroughly and perfectly gathers is drawn from the rooms through small iron suction pipes leading to big, sealed dust-bucket in cellar. All the housekeeping junk has to be taken to the vacuum cleaner in the cellar, and a few gentle strokes of the dainty, magical attach hose to iron suction pipe opening in baseboard of any room, turn an electric switch to start the vacuuming, and all the dirt is drawn up into the vacuum cleaner. The foul germ-laden air, after the dust is removed, is exhausted through piping to the out-doors or up the chimney-flue. Put with utmost simplicity into any kind of old or new dwelling or building. The sole running cost adds but a few dimes to your monthly electricity bill. Ask for catalog of ARCO VACUUM CLEANER.

WILD DUCK CAPTURED

Fell at Feet of J. B. Arnold—Taken to Poultry Show.

Chantecler Chorus in Full Song on East Superior Street.

Even wild birds want to be on exhibition at the show of the Duluth Poultry association, which will open Wednesday morning.

Last evening as J. B. Arnold was on his way home, a small wild duck, headed in the direction of the poultry show, flew down at his feet when he was in the vicinity of Forty-third avenue east. This morning Mr. Arnold carried the arrival via the air route to Secretary Greenfield's home and Mr. Greenfield wanted to ask the show on East Superior street, where it was placed in a crate for exhibition.

The duck is a wild one, and the tale is true, both Mr. Greenfield and Mr. Arnold backing up the story. Mr. Arnold states that he is sure that the duck wanted to ask the show on East Superior street, but didn't know how.

It had evidently noticed the advertising that the Duluth association has sent to all the smaller towns in the state with views of the poultry show.

The little fellow was perfectly at home in his crate at the poultry show, and he evidently enjoyed the view of the show, and he evidently hopes to take a prize, for when seen he was busy plucking himself for the opening, which takes place Wednesday morning.

Nearly all the entries are now in place in the show room secured on Superior street. The place was formerly occupied by the Russell Motor company.

Eight hundred hens and roosters and turkeys and geese are quite capable of making a noise and they gave a practical demonstration this morning.

While some might question their musical ability as individuals, the chorus work as a whole is quite up to the usual standard. A typical barnyard chorus. Some lusty-throated fowls have evidently sneaked in without having their voices tested, but the general work is so good that these are usually drowned out.

The solo parts in the great chantecler production are well taken. The principals were evidently chosen for their appearance as well as their ability. One large, brown, fluffy rooster makes good with ease in the part and will rival Maude Adams for honor.

Chantecler Chorus. The chorus is well dressed. There is every shade of brown, yellow, gray, as well as those in solemn black. A feature of the musical numbers is that there are no long, draggy waits. One number follows another, hardly waiting for the last strains of the previous songs to die away.

It would hardly be fair to criticize rhythm and technique as the performance as heard this morning was but a rehearsal of what is to come.

The present show will undoubtedly be the most successful yet. The history of the Duluth association. There are seventy-five entries in the show, and there are 800 birds in the show.

Each prize which aggregate $600 have been hung up for competition and the last of the winter shows and it will be the cream of the other. The association has recently held a number of who have won prizes at other shows and the last of the winter shows.

The association is lucky to get as good a location as was secured. The room is large, being used formerly as an automobile garage. The association would have been unable to accommodate the large number who wished to enter had it been impossible to secure such commodious quarters.

The exhibition will open Wednesday and will continue until Feb. 4. The birds will all be scored and will be wearing their ribbons on the morning of the opening. In this way the public will know which birds won prizes.

James A. Tucker is judge this year. He is from Concord, Mich., and will arrive in the city tomorrow. Many of the entries have been made by Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, and Southern Minnesota points. The number of outsiders comes has surprised those in charge of the show this year.

For the best pen of fowls, the highest scoring pen of birds in the show, the Duluth & Iron Range railroad land department offered a silver cup. The best pen of fowls was won by J. B. Greenfield. The year before it was won by H. A. Nelson. Both men, as well as a number of others, have their eyes on it again this year. It has won three times before it becomes private property.

Free Tickets to Rulers. A feature of the show this year is the fact that free tickets are being issued to raisers and farmers. This is to encourage them to come to the show and also encourage them to raise the best of chickens and other barnyard fowls. Family tickets, good for the entire week of the show, are being sold at $1.

J. V. Nelson has an incubator at the show. The chicks will, if everything goes well, be cracking their shells about Thursday morning. The morning after the opening of the show. Saturday will be children's day at the show and it is planned to get as many of them out as possible that they may get interested in poultry raising. The show and have accompanied their chickens to Duluth. Mrs. Mitchell of Crookston has about forty birds on exhibition and Mrs. John Kaase of Minneapolis has a very fine collection. Mrs. H. E. Abell of Hibbing, Minn., also has a fine assortment of fowls at her home. C. Wilguts, formerly of this city but now of Holyoke, Minn.

M. E. Altheimer, physical director in the Duluth schools, has his Toulouse geese on exhibition. They are probably the biggest geese ever exhibited in Duluth.

CANNOT MEET DEMAND.

State Road and Bridge Fund Not Equal to Calls.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 23.—With nearly all counties in the state having reported, requests for appropriations from the 1912 road and bridge fund are aggregating approximately $700,000, according to George M. Cooley, engineer of the state highway commission. As the entire fund available will amount only to about $300,000 and the legislature is to be paid to count, the fund is not nearly enough to meet the demand. The fund is not nearly enough to meet the demand. The fund is not nearly enough to meet the demand.

To the Registered Voters of the Second Ward

Arthur A. Fider, Republican Candidate for Alderman.

Believes those who cast their vote should do so intelligently and for the man that can and will render the best service to the ward and city. Mr. Fider has lived in the ward twenty-one years, owns his home and other property; has taken a great interest in the welfare and upbuilding of that part of the city. He has been secretary of the Hillside Club for two years, and been very active in the work that they have done for the ward. He is one of the largest taxpayers on the hillside, is capable of forming and expressing an opinion on questions that effect the welfare of the people—will be with the people and for them on every question. "Do it for Duluth," but work for his ward, is his motto. He'll be a live one in the council. He asks the vote of every man in the ward.

His opponent, Mr. Makowski, only boards in the ward, and has but little at stake personally. He has not the ability or the influence in the council that the Second ward is entitled to—rarely expresses an opinion and is bitterly opposed to letting the people vote on the bond question.

Republican Candidate for Alderman, Second Ward.

NAMES SUGGESTED FOR COUNTY'S NEW TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM

At a conference between J. S. Pardee and Rev. Pequette, held on the question of a name for the new tuberculosis sanitarium, a number of the Indian names were given, and a list furnished the sanitarium commissioners.

There seems to be a great variation in the spelling and pronunciation of the Indian words. Many have suggested the same words but with different spelling and just a little difference in the meaning in some instances. Among all the Indian names, Nopeming seems to be the general favorite among those interested up to the present time.

Among the other names suggested are: Sunnyside, Health Hall, Healthmount, Sunnyside, Sunny Heights, Hillside, Buena Vista, Belle Air, Valley View, Beechwood, Sunrise Lodge, Sunshine Sanitarium, Sunrise Hill, Hillcrest and others. Among these names the latter, Hillcrest, seems to be generally popular.

J. S. Pardee has suggested the following: Skyline, Balmwood, Trellis, Splice-o-Pine, Hillcrest, Overcloud, Healthhope, Midcloud, Liftlook, Rest-a-While, Ovelake, Foundavie, Healthingest, Sunbath. Among the Chipewewa names suggested by Mr. Pardee are: Geczan Monedo, merciful spirit; Annahmewin, prayer; Ooyemant, brother; Onini, hand; Ogitchini, right hand; Odah, heart; Odanyuh, village; Needlee, friend; Wassayan, light; Soogwin, spring; Nagwaugun-ayab, rainbow; Abbenoche, child. The following are from Hiawatha: Ewages, lullaby; Oesoo, evening star; Owaissen, blue bird; Wabun, star of the east.

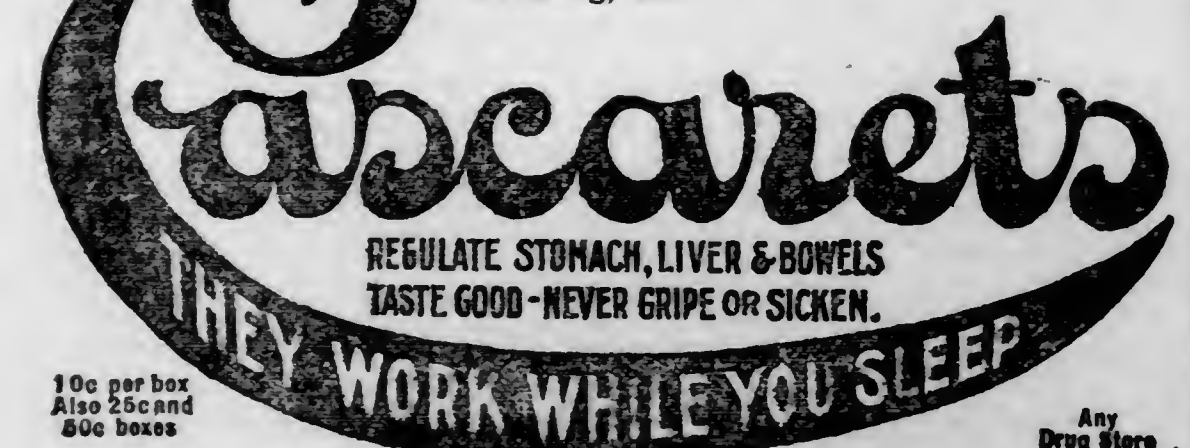

Some of the French names suggested are: Etoile, Sur le Mont, Renfort, Ecole du, Sylvain, Bois de Sante. Some names suggested by the public library follow: Abanako, Indian—the east land; Acana, Spanish—place of repose; Acme, Greek—summit; Adena, Indian—paradise.

FOR SICK HEADACHE, SOUR STOMACH, LAZY LIVER OR SLUGGISH BOWELS

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

EMINENT JURIST PASSES AWAY AT MINNEAPOLIS

Former Federal Judge William Lochren Succumbs After Long Illness.

Commissioner of Pensions Under Cleveland and Civil War Veteran.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 29.—Judge William Lochren, for many years a prominent figure in his profession, and judge of the United States district court from 1896 to his retirement in 1908, died at 5:34 p. m. Saturday at his home here. He had been in declining health for several years, and his death was not unexpected. His wife and son, William A. Lochren, were at his bedside.

Judge Lochren had an eventful and varied career before he finally took his place on the bench.

He was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, April 3, 1832. His father died when he was a year old and his mother found it necessary to come to America with relatives who migrated that year.

The mother settled in Franklin county, Vermont, near the Canadian border and there a part of the time on the Canadian side. Judge Lochren lived until 1850, when he went to Auburn, Mass., where he worked in the mills and on the farm and obtained a fair academic education. In 1854 he returned to Vermont and studied law. As soon as he was admitted to practice he left Vermont and came to St. Anthony, where he made his home for the remainder of his life. At the height of the Civil war he enlisted in Company E, First Minnesota volunteers and was soon made a sergeant. He was with the regiment in all the battles of the Potomac for three years. His bravery and attention to duty attracted the attention of the military authorities. In July of the following year he was promoted to first lieutenant for his distinction in the campaign. He acted as adjutant from the battle of Gettysburg until the fall of 1862, following October. His health became impaired and he was compelled to resign and return to St. Anthony. In 1865 he entered the political arena and was elected state senator. He served two years. In the following spring he formed a partnership with W. McNair and B. C. Gillman and became a member of the firm. He was then elected city attorney for the years 1871 and 1872.

Appointed a Judge.
The legal business of the city and county had grown so rapidly in the years immediately preceding 1881 that a special act was passed by the legislature giving a third judge to the Third Judicial District. John S. Pillsbury was governor at the time and he appointed Mr. Lochren to fill the place until the held court for him at Fargo, Bismarck and Devils Lake.

As pension commissioner Judge Lochren came into the strong imbecility of bitter attack for his action in reversing the pension of his predecessor, Green B. Raum. Judge Lochren went into office at a time when the pension relief and the old soldiers for pension relief and the old soldiers for pension relief and the old soldiers for pension relief.

On May 20, 1896, he was appointed judge of the United States court for the district of Minnesota. He was the first Minneapolis lawyer to have that honor. This position was the last he ever held. He continued on the federal bench until March 31, 1908, when he sent in his resignation and retired from active life.

LACE ON MEN'S NIGHTROBES NOT LIKELY TO BE FASHION HERE

Who knows the taste of Duluth men better than the Superior street clothing merchant?

And when they refuse to stock up with men's nightrobes made of frail batiste, with a frill of lace running down the center panel and caught with the faintest of pink or blue ribbon, it is a pretty sure guess that the new styles in night clothing for men will not go in Duluth.

"Imagine me offering a Duluth man something like that," said a Duluth merchant this morning. "He would tell me to turn the joint over to the women."

Down in New York the new, lacy robes are said to be the rage with the men. A traveling salesman tried to install them in a Duluth store recently and the proprietor was too modest to even look at them.

The new idea is besides being very thin, very airy. They are punctured in places. Were they for the opposite

JUDGE WILLIAM LOCHREN.

He had many of the most important cases in the history of the state. At the time of his resignation Judge Lochren was 75 years old.

At that time his health began to fail and he thought it best for the interests of the federal bench and for himself that he resign and give way to a younger man. It was with reluctance that he resigned and he said then in announcing his decision to retire, that he had been in the harness so long that he could hardly realize that he had come to the end of the work of a life time.

Judge Lochren was married in 1871 to Mrs. Martha Dammon, who died in 1879, leaving an infant daughter, Martha, who died in her 5th year. In April, 1882, Judge Lochren married Mary E. Abbott. They had one son, William A. Lochren, who was born Feb. 26, 1884, who is connected with the advertising department of the Journal.

Second Federal Judge.
At the time of Judge Lochren's appointment to the federal bench he succeeded Judge R. K. Nelson of St. Paul, who had reached the age of retirement. Judge Nelson was the first federal judge in the state, and until his retirement Judge Lochren was the second. Judge Nelson was appointed territorial judge by President Buchanan in 1857 and federal judge in 1858. He was a Democrat, so that although Minnesota was a strong Republican state, the judges of the federal bench, until the appointment of Judge Page Morris as associate judge, were Democrats. As a federal jurist, Judge Lochren was indefatigable. He was in demand as substitute on the bench of the circuit court of appeals, and to help out judges in the districts of the Eighth circuit. He was designated for these duties frequently by the presiding circuit judge and never failed to respond. Not only did he serve for many years at all the terms of the federal courts in Minnesota, but he acted in seven full terms in the circuit court of appeals, and owing to the illness of Judge Thomas of North Dakota he frequently acted as regular circuit judge for him at Fargo, Bismarck and Devils Lake.

As pension commissioner Judge Lochren came into the strong imbecility of bitter attack for his action in reversing the pension of his predecessor, Green B. Raum. Judge Lochren went into office at a time when the pension relief and the old soldiers for pension relief and the old soldiers for pension relief and the old soldiers for pension relief.

On May 20, 1896, he was appointed judge of the United States court for the district of Minnesota. He was the first Minneapolis lawyer to have that honor. This position was the last he ever held. He continued on the federal bench until March 31, 1908, when he sent in his resignation and retired from active life.

Glass Block Store Talks

—This is the second of a series that will appear in this space each Monday evening. In these columns the general policy and fundamental principles on which this institution is operated will be discussed for the information and benefit of an interested public.

The Store a Semi-Public Institution

—The GLASS BLOCK STORE is a semi-public institution. It was originally organized and is daily operated to fill a public need.

—To be of the greatest service and to supply the daily wants of a vast populace, diversified lines of merchandise are collected under one roof and management. The articles of a hardware store, piece goods that one might expect to find in an exclusive dry goods store, the range of wearing apparel a well organized specialty shop would show, china, embroideries, millinery, jewelry, shoes, drugs, carpets and other lines; in short, 26 stores and shops are organized into one great institution for the purpose of affording maximum convenience, simplicity and economy of time to the shopping public.

—As a semi-public institution, this store must give an adequate and satisfactory public service.

—The United States government acknowledged this store as a public institution when it established a branch Post Office here. This feature is of daily use to hundreds of people, yet is but an arm of the store's public service.

—On every floor both lines of telephones are convenient for the public's free and unlimited use. On the Fourth Floor is a private booth ever at public disposal, with local service free of charge.

—The Second, and Fourth Floors have commodious Writing and Rest Rooms, well appointed and luxuriously furnished, for the convenience and comfort of the shopping public. Marble lavatories are in connection with these rooms.

—The finest Tea Rooms in the Northwest on the Fourth Floor form an important branch of the public service. Here the fatigued shopper may retire for dainty refreshments and quiet rest. Here the hostess may entertain her friends at luncheon or give an afternoon bridge party. Here the business man may enjoy his luncheon free from the din of the street and amid the most pleasant, homelike surroundings, or may combine business conference in the seclusion of a semi-private booth. The cuisine is unsurpassed and the service dainty and prompt.

—The Circulating Library on the Main Floor Balcony is a practical purveyor of the latest popular fiction, bringing the newest books to readers at a very nominal cost and enabling all to keep well informed on the best books.

—The Beauty Parlors on the Third Floor combine to make this a greater public institution and to make the public service more complete.

—Courteous and efficient salespeople, quick making of change and delivery of "take-with" packages, the well organized system of city and suburban deliveries, together with the most complete and well selected stocks of merchandise throughout every department unite in making a service which the public has a right to expect from an institution of this kind.

—To make service ideal and most effective the store keeps in the closest touch with the public. Suggestions as to how we might better serve are solicited. A Suggestion Box, located near the East elevator on the First Floor is one medium through which we receive many valuable hints from an interested public that augur well for the service.

—And so this store is a SEMI-PUBLIC INSTITUTION with a constant and growing ambition for giving the GREATEST PUBLIC SERVICE.

Chicken Pot Pie

The Chef's Favorite

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Some folks think that only "colored mummies" can cook chicken, but a trial of this famous chicken pot pie disproves that assertion. Every member of the family will thoroughly enjoy it.

K C Chicken Pot Pie, Baked Dumplings
One loaf cut in joints; 1/2 cup flour; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; black pepper; 2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; 1/2 cup shortening; milk or cream.

Cover the bowl with boiling water and let simmer until tender, then remove a baking dish. Mix the 1/2 cup flour, salt and black pepper with cold water to a smooth paste and use to thicken the broth. Remove the fat from the top of the broth if necessary before adding the thickening. Pour this gravy over the fowl, until it is nearly covered, and reserve the rest to serve apart. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; three times; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough, less stiff than for biscuits. Put this by spoonfuls over the fowl in the dish, which it should rest upon and completely cover. Let bake about 35 minutes.

When young, tender chickens are scarce, this presents a most satisfactory way of serving old fowls. Venal or lamb prepared in this manner is more appetizing than when served as a stew. Try this and the 49 other delicious recipes in the K C Cook's Book, a copy of which may be secured free by sending the colored certificate tucked in the 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JAMES MFG. CO., Chicago.

"NEW CHINA" DESCRIBED IN MISSIONARY'S LETTER

Duluth Man Receives Interesting Account of the Reconstruction.

New Assembly Doing Good Work—Queues Are Cut.

Rev. J. H. Giffin, 1927 West Second street, who returned recently from China, where he and Mrs. Giffin spent the past seven years as missionaries, received a letter, recently dated Dec. 31, 1911, from another Baptist missionary, George Campbell of Central China.

The letter tells of the new government in China and the various changes that have already been made. New voting laws have been established. The letter reads, in part as follows: "I want to tell you something about our new government. The old division into prefectures, each containing from two to nine counties, is done away with. As in America, the state is divided into counties. Our country is now called 'Mol-chu,' which is the name it bore 100 years ago. That will be the name of the city, too. 'Mol-chu' is divided into thirty-six divisions, called 'pau.' Each of these divisions has representatives to form an electoral assembly. This body chooses a ruler for the country, who is called the 'Chu-chong.' This body chooses an assembly or legislature. This body is now holding two sessions a day. They have done a good deal of business and appear to be equal to the occasion. The military administration is in the hands of authorities appointed by the central government for the present.

"Voters must be 25 years old, male Chinese, and never convicted of any crime. Candidates for any office must be at least graduates of schools of the grammar grade. Those engaged in any infamous business (like gambling or selling opium), are barred. Members of the assembly must be under 60 years of age. After serving three years of three years each one is not eligible to office. Father and son cannot sit in the same assembly.

"The assembly will be called to gather in the 'Chu-chong' once a year for a month and the time may be extended, but not to exceed three months. It is to have a chairman and four secretaries. It has power to impeach officials, (under the 'Chu-chong' shown) and depose them from office. It may pass measures over the 'Chu-chong' by a three-fourth majority. It receives a report of the receipts and expenditures of the country. It has the power to make assessments and fix the amount of taxes.

"This 'Chu-chong' is for one year only, but the four years and he can serve but three terms. His powers comprise the right to call the assembly together, to appoint and depose members of the assembly. He appoints a sort of cabinet to call them board of commissioners. One looks after the police, another after the education, and there is a board of education and one of finance. There are also others to be accepted and religious freedom is promised.

Last Sunday they had what they call a Heroes' Day. Tablets containing the names of five patriots who have given their lives for their country during the past few months were exposed for the public to see and an elaborate ceremony was held. Three of these men were put to death for a successful attempt to assassinate high officials in the Canton government. This would seem to glorify murder and so is quite contrary to the example.

"The population of this county is estimated at 500,000 and its area at 900 square miles. The census may change these figures but the country is certainly densely settled though hills and mountain cover most of the place. Our people in Kaying are intelligent and progressive. In fact many movements for reform are being started in our province or Canton. The president-elect of China, Yat Sen, is a native of this province.

"Our people in Kaying have affected a Republican form of government without any aid from the higher officials at all, with the exception of the little moral support. Kaying is the first city in this great province to elect a mayor, and the first in all China, so far as we know.

obey the order and put it in effect. His wonderful preaching had won him many friends and he had also become known as a national song and hymn writer. He translated the Bible into the German language, which for a time was the marvel of that country's writings. "Luther had the most wonderful power over men and countries and the greatest crisis in the world's history after the coming of Christ to Palestine. The man who had become an Augustine monk could shake a continent and start the history of the world in a new channel, can only be explained on the grounds of his 'Luther' standing with right and God was the mightiest power of his day. He had met with opposition during his whole life, and only near the end was he successful in overcoming the many difficulties."

Would You Pay More For An Inferior Service?

The function of a city government is to govern and not to trade. The very nature of this function, whether it be exercised by NATION, STATE or MUNICIPALITY, would prohibit the setting up of competition with a private industry whether it be wholesale or retail.

Even if this were not true, should a government undertake to enter into competition with a privately owned and operated industry, what hope could it have to cope successfully with any of these private enterprises?

For instance, what chance would a municipal electric lighting plant have to combat and to take over all the contracts now operated by the Duluth-Edison Electric Company?

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

ROBERT T. HAINES AT THE ORPHEUM

Well-Known Actor Appears in Vaudeville in Broadhurst Playlet.

When an actor of the type of Robert T. Haines appears in vaudeville, it is a good thing for vaudeville. Incidentally it may be a good thing for Mr. Haines, but the fact remains that actors of his stamp are rare even in legitimate fields, and their scarcity is even more so in vaudeville ranks. He is heading the Orpheum bill this week.

Mr. Haines is probably better known right in New York city than in any other part of the country. He has not been in the West for years and not in Duluth since the days of the Temple theater. That was before the time he acquired any widespread reputation. In the East, however, he has played as leading man for such actresses as Mrs. Fiske and Blanche Bates.

His present vehicle, "The Coward," is a playlet, by George Broadhurst, adapted from the three-act play of the same name. In which Mr. Haines starred for two seasons most successfully. It is a thrilling little drama, well presented and played by a company that is fully adequate. Mr. Haines' work is finished and impressive, and his fine appearance, deep and impressive voice, and his personality make the part of the coward stand out. Robert Keene, in the part of the villain, shares honors with the star, and gives a fine interpretation of the role of the criminal. The play is a very short, but well-handled and the other members of the company acquit themselves well. It is a first-class headline act for a very entertaining bill.

The brightest and cleverest act on the bill, outside of the headline sketch, is the act presented by Charles Nevins and Ada Gordon. The comedy dialogue over the manure table is right up to the minute, with some sparkling new lines, and the scurrow dance of Miss Bates.

George Auger, the tallest man in the world, and Ernest Rommel, probably one of the smallest men in the world, are headlining the vaudeville bill at the Empress theater this week in a clever sketch called "Jack, the Giant Killer."

The play is a treat for older folks as well as the children. The story is taken from the famous old nursery tale and with special scenery and electrical effects, the development of the story is made most pleasurable.

In response to an enthusiastic curtain call yesterday, Auger delivered a certain speech in which he told of the troubles of being of more than ordinary height. He said that he had to begin smoking cigarettes at 14 years of age or he would be growing yet.

The fairy tale act on the entire program which is up to the usual high standard maintained by the Sullivan and Considine people during the last few weeks.

Miss Anna Bartling, a woman juggler, does some fancy stunts that is no picnic for the three large audiences in attendance at the opening performances yesterday. It is unusual to say the least, to see a woman juggler. Those who think that men are the best jugglers should do well to see Miss Bartling.

Tom Ripley apparently has almost as much fun as does the audience in listening to his jokes and songs and that is no picnic for the three large audiences in attendance at the opening performances yesterday. "THE COST" to the city for each street lamp, as stated by the city engineers in their report for a proposed municipal plant, would be $65.58 a lamp. If this is "THE COST" for street lamps, the proposed municipal plant MUST supply electric current to private consumers at a profit, if the dreams of the theorists are to be made good. And you know that that is impossible.

The city could neither purchase nor manufacture its electricity as cheaply as does the Duluth-Edison Electric Company, even if it could take half of the commercial business. This last contingency is preposterous.

How could the city secure this Commercial Business?

Gordon is one of the most interesting dance novelties presented at the Orpheum this season.

Roy Cummings and Helen Glasfords have another strictly little song and dance turn. The dancing of Miss Glasfords is exceptionally good. Both members of the team have a most attractive and pleasing appearance, and their comedy is all clean and clever. It is a song and dance act of the best and most entertaining type.

Miss Sue Smith, with more than the average share of good looks, a voice that ranks above the vaudeville class, and some very stunning costumes, sings four character songs.

Claude M. Roodo, a remarkable slack wire performer, opens the show with some very clever work on the swinging rope. His act compares very favorably with that of Robbedillo, the Cuban, who created a sensation over the Orpheum circuit last year. He does practically all of the feats that Robbedillo did.

Rice and Prevost, two well known comedy acrobats, are on the bill with their "Bumpty Bump," an act consisting of many comedy falls, and some first-class acrobatic work.

New motion pictures, and the concert by the Orpheum orchestra, complete a bill that will continue all week with a daily matinee.

Famous Fairy Tale Delights Little Folks and Pleases Older People.

ability. She "makes up" in full view of the audience, singing songs and telling really funny stories at the same time. Miss Flynn, who has a most dainty and attractive appearance, has an original manner of delivering her songs and jokes which appealed to the audience yesterday.

The closing act is one of the best in the musical line that this year visited the Empress theater. Waterbury brothers and Tenny, formerly with the Cohan & Harris minstrels, are surely original in their own line. They get music out of all sorts of instruments and mix with it clean comedy which causes them to be compelled to respond to several curtain calls. One of the members of the trio is one of the most original comedians the Empress has seen this year.

The show ends with the usual motion pictures. The daylight motion pictures are making a big hit with the Empress crowds.

There will be three performances daily, on each afternoon and two each evening during the remainder of the week.

Lycium Notes.

Robert Hilliard in his phenomenal success, "A Fool There Was," will return to the Lyceum on Friday and Saturday. He is making a coast-to-coast tour, which will take him to the Far West for the first time. It is positively his last season in "A Fool There Was," although the Lyceum pictures are making a big hit with the Empress crowds.

Costumes play so important a part in "The Rose" the new musical comedy in which Valdeska Suratt comes to the Lyceum next Sunday and Monday, that it has been found necessary since leaving New York, where the piece enjoyed an all-summer run, to add to the staff of working people who are a part of the company, three dressmakers and two expert milliners. They are used to keep the 150 costumes and frocks in perfect condition and to attend to the 150 hats which are carried to adorn the heads of the forty-nine women during the three acts of the play.

Miss Anna Held, the famous comedienne, who has been in Paris for the past two years, will be seen at the Lyceum on Feb. 9 and 10 in F. Ziegfeld, Jr.'s greatest musical production, "Mlle. Innocence." Harry B. Smith wrote the book and lyrics of the piece, while Ludwig Englander and others composed the tuneful music. The work is in three acts and eight brilliantly illuminated scenes, and is said to be a real sensation. Miss Held is surrounded by a company of 150 prominent players, to make the production as a hand-some in the world.

RICHEST POLICEMAN WILL RETIRE ON A PENSION

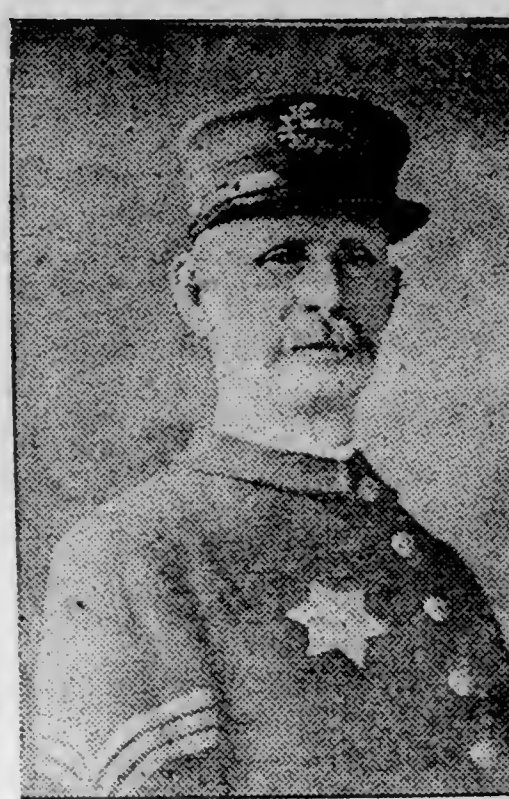

Sergeant Robert J. ("Bob") Gillon will shortly be placed on the retired list of the police department according to the statement of Mayor M. B. Cullum this morning.

Sergeant Gillon is one of the oldest men on the local force. He is past 60 years of age and completed twenty years of active service Sept. 16 last, having been appointed a member of the force Sept. 16, 1891.

Sergeant Gillon is said to be the richest man on the Duluth police force. He has been on the sick list for many weeks past, being forced to take to his bed the first part of this month.

Last week it was reported that he had had a difficulty with a street car conductor on a West Third street car, and it is claimed that this was partly responsible for the sergeant's retirement from active service. It was claimed that when the car conductor and the fares the sergeant tendered a transfer which was too old. Upon the conductor's refusal to take the transfer, the sergeant claimed that the two had a quarrel in which the officer made a dash for his revolver, throwing the passengers into a state of confusion. Sergeant Gillon denies that he pulled the revolver from his pocket.

The officials of the street car company made no report of the matter to Chief Troyer or Mayor Cullum, and stated the next morning that as far as they were concerned they were perfectly willing to let the matter pass without further notice. Unofficial reports, however, reached the ears of the authorities, and it is alleged that as a result of the investigation which was made, it was decided that all ends would be best served if the sergeant were allowed to retire on a pension.

SCHOOL GIRL WITNESS TELLS OF BRIBE OFFER

Says Woman Charged With Her Downfall Offered Her Money.

Eighteen-year-old Jessie Stronach, a West end schoolgirl, told Judge Dancer and a jury in district court this morning, that after she had been induced to lead a life of shame, May Fisher, the woman who had wronged her, had attempted to bribe her not to appear in court by giving her $20. The alleged bribe, the Stronach girl charges, was offered by the Fisher woman Saturday at the county jail, when Miss Stronach and May Ross, who will appear as a witness for the state, visited May Fisher at her cell. Miss Stronach testified that May Ross was present and overheard the conversation about the alleged bribe. May Fisher, a woman of the underworld, was put on trial this morning. She is specifically charged with having enticed and procured the Stronach girl to enter a life of ill fame, loquacious, at Cuyuna, Atkinson county. The alleged offense is said to have taken place on Nov. 15 last.

The story of her first misstep downward was told by the Stronach girl, she related of her first meeting with the Fisher woman, which was at the Lowell block. May Ross, who, it is claimed, was the proprietor of the Cuyuna resort, was also present as well as five other girls, including Miss Stronach. All returned to Cuyuna with the Fisher woman.

The Stronach girl remained at Cuyuna three weeks, during which time she claims that the Fisher woman subjected her to indecent treatment and upon one occasion threatened to shoot her, but was restrained from doing so by the Ross woman, who finally gave her enough money to get back to Duluth.

Attorney T. J. McKeen is defending the Fisher woman and County Attorney Norton is prosecuting the case. The case is similar to that brought against May Harris, who was on trial two weeks ago on a charge of enticing two Duluth girls to an evil resort at Grand Rapids, Minn. The Harris woman pleaded guilty and was sentenced to Stillwater on the indeterminate plan.

Interests in this case as it will probably be the first of its kind to be tried in the state under the new law governing such cases. The trial of the Harris woman was started, but when County Attorney Norton introduced in evidence a written confession made by the prisoner, she withdrew her plea of not guilty, and entered one of guilty and the case never went to the jury.

St. Cloud reformatory on the indeterminate plan Saturday afternoon in juvenile court.

Young Murphy had been employed by the Silverstein & Bondy store as a delivery boy. He was caught keeping money for the company, but was given another trial by the owners of the store.

When Judge Cant, who heard his case, learned that instead of improving, Murphy had gone "from bad to worse," he ordered him to the reformatory.

The boy had been ordered to keep away from the pool rooms, but at the time of his arrest, was found in a pool hall.

People's Meeting.
Miss Heyman's rendition of Handel's "Largo" was greatly appreciated by the audience at the people's meeting at the First Presbyterian church last evening. This solo and the two anthems, "The King of Love" and "O Jesus, Thou Art Standing There," rendered by the quartet of Misses Reynolds, Bacheler and Suffel, were the musical features of the program.

By using the text of Daniel's answer to the king when asked to worship the golden calf, "He may deliver us, but if not," after outlining the faithfulness and heroism of the firm believers in God, regardless of the result, the speaker, Miss Reynolds, declared the spirit of expediency which is not of God.

"There is a lack of backbone, a listening to the tempter's voice," he said, "is the courage of a Daniel is needed today."

CURES S.S.S. CHRONIC ULCERS

Any chronic ulcer shows an unhealthy and impure condition of the blood. It is a diseased condition of the flesh at that particular spot, caused and kept inflamed and irritated by a continual discharge into it, of an unhealthy matter from the circulation. No treatment can have any curative effect except a medicine which will renovate the blood and entirely remove the inflammation, cleansing the ulcer, or perhaps lessening the discharge, but such applications do not reach the blood where the disease germs are located and can never effect a cure. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation, drives out all impurities and morbid matter, and by nourishing the flesh with rich pure blood causes the place to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by beginning at the bottom, and rebuilding broken-down tissue, and supplying healthful, healing qualities to the blood, causes the place to fill with new, firm flesh, while it steadily but surely effects a permanent cure. The ulcer can not exist when the blood is pure, and S. S. S. will thoroughly purify the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

BOOM FOR COLONEL NO JOKE in the East, Says Visitor.

F. W. Buxton of Brooklyn Believes Ex-President Must Be Considered.

"In the East they are talking of Roosevelt, and it is the persistent and insistent talk that generally leads to something. What are they doing out in the West?"

The statement and query came from F. W. Buxton, a business man of Brooklyn, who is at the Holland today. "They may ridicule the boom that is growing for the colonel, but it will not down," he said. "With the interests allied against the campaign that has been started for Roosevelt, the people of the East are hearing much against him, but the impetus that has come to the boom for the former president within the past ten days leaves no doubt but that Roosevelt must be taken seriously."

How Many Women Keep Young

"A woman may be old at 18 and young at 80," says Mrs. Margaret Holmes Bates, prominent Chicago clubwoman. "Years don't matter. Didn't Ninon de L'Enclos have a proposal at 90?"

The youth of our women is more lasting than it was a generation ago, because we are becoming acquainted with simple physiological laws. When the first aging marks appear—wrinkles, sagging cheeks, neck and chin—we realize that the cause is a loosening of the skin and softening of the tissue. We know this tightens the skin, solidifies the tissue, induces a healthy circulation. We treat causes rather than effects. We use reason—and stay young.

Children Cry For

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

S. J. Briggs & Co., of Providence, R. I., say: "We have sold Fletcher's Castoria in our three stores for the past twenty years and consider it one of the best preparations on the market."

E. W. Stucky, of Indianapolis, Ind., says: "To say that we have recommended and sold your Castoria for years is the best endorsement we can possibly give any preparation. It is surely full of merit and worthy of recommendation."

Henry R. Gray, of Montreal, Que., says: "I would say that your Castoria for children is in large demand and that it gives general satisfaction. Not being a secret nostrum many medical men order it when circumstances indicate the use of such a preparation."

W. G. Marshall, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "We have found your Castoria to be not only one of the best sellers in the medicine market, but a preparation that gives almost universal satisfaction; in fact we cannot recall having had a single complaint from any of our customers who have used it."

Owens & Minor Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "It is with pleasure that we lend our endorsement to Castoria, a preparation of proven merit. During our long experience in the drug business we have had abundant occasion to note the popularity of the genuine Fletcher's Castoria, which we unhesitatingly recommend."

Brannen & Anthony of Atlanta, Ga., say: "No doubt if we were called upon to state positively what medicine we had sold for the greatest length of time, the greatest number of bottles sold, and the most satisfactory preparation to use and also to the customer, we feel that we could safely and conscientiously say Fletcher's Castoria."

CHILD LABOR THEIR THEME

Duluth Pastors Do Their Part in Nation Wide Movement.

Youthful Wage Earners Subject of Several Pulpit Addresses.

Yesterday was Child Labor Sunday in Duluth churches, and several local pastors, at the request of the national committee for the prevention of child labor, spoke on the subject of youthful wage earners.

Among those who chose this subject was Rev. George R. Gettner of the First Unitarian church, who spoke in part as follows:

"We know that in our land are thousands, perhaps millions of children who are growing up into a life of worthlessness, shame and disgrace, fostered by conditions altogether beyond the power of the child. And so the national problem of the day not merely is to protect the child against abuse, but to train it to some use, not only to remove from its weak shoulders the burden of labor and poverty, but to put in its place the gentle yoke of wholesome employment and education."

"Thanks to the untiring efforts of the national child labor committee and the public conscience in regard to this great problem. Many of the states have passed rational laws regulating child labor. Minnesota in this much remains to be done. Unfortunately the laws in this state intended to serve childhood are rather loosely constructed; they invite circumvention. While there exists the recognition that the child has certain rights, the state does not fully recognize its duty. The state does not realize that it must stand in loco parentis whenever the natural parent fails in his duty to rear the child to efficient manhood."

"We pride ourselves upon our compulsory education, but if we study the statistics, we find that it is essentially a grand bluff. We find that these school laws virtually compel but very little, and that those who need compelling most, in the first place our laws are satisfied with a minimum of twelve weeks' instruction a year. Such education in an age when highest demands are made upon the child, especially when the law does not even demand proper instruction in school, but when such instruction may be given by anyone considered competent. And even then, the state entirely insures that it must stand in loco parentis whenever the natural parent fails in his duty to rear the child to efficient manhood."

"What is the simple duty of the state? It is to take care of themselves, to see that every child within its borders gets all the education it needs for its development; to see that no child is ever debauched from efficient manhood by the unfortunate fact that it was brought into the world by inefficient parents, inefficient perhaps because so, they refused to do its duty to them."

"The more enforcement of a negative, prohibitive labor law, needed as it is, is not enough. The problem must be approached from the positive side. Often even under existing conditions, the rigid and unelastic enforcement of the child labor law may do more harm than good. It is questionable if the child would not be better off working in a factory, self newspapers on a street than to loaf with companions in the alley. Now the simplest way to ameliorate the conditions of childhood would be to better the status of the working class in general. At the bottom of child labor is doubtless lack of labor for men. Children have so often to go without proper education and labor, because their elders have no work, or are incompetent to obtain account of insufficient education. How these conditions could be changed does not concern us here; the are matters of social politics and economics, but we all may agree that if the present generation were properly trained there would be in the future less misery among the adults and therefore less abuse of the child. To make the child efficient rear it to be a man, a woman; this then is the duty of the state. Our entire school system must be adjusted to the demands of the present day. As it is the school is too detached from actual life. While we need not make our public schools vocational, as generally understood, yet they should naturally lead the child into a vocation."

OBEYING ORDER OF THE COURT
Companies That Composed Tobacco Trust Doing Business Independently.

That the several tobacco companies that were the component parts of the American Tobacco company, which was recently dissolved by judicial order, are now in active competition against each other, and are obeying the order of the court to the letter, was the declaration made today at the Spalding hotel by E. E. Johnson of New York, vice president of the companies that composed the trust.

"Doing business is more expensive than it was under the old system," said he, "but the companies will continue to obey the order of the court. The four companies that were included in the American Tobacco company now employ many more salesmen than they did. They are hustling against each other just as actively as they are hustling against any companies that never were identified with the American."

NEW MEMBERS OF SPALDING STAFF
John A. Magnuson, the new assistant manager of the Spalding hotel, former manager of the Cardenas hotel at Denver, Colo., is native of Duluth. His parents are still residents of this city. His first hotel experience was at the Spalding. Fifteen years ago he left Duluth to obtain employment along the same line elsewhere. During the last ten years he has been identified with the great Fred Harvey system of railroad hotels. Mr. Magnuson's great success in the Fred Harvey system attracted the attention of Edwin H. Lee, proprietor of the Spalding hotel. Mr. Magnuson was, as a result, engaged to be assistant manager of that hotel.

Henry Lloyd, the new chief clerk at the Spalding, has had most of his hotel experience in the South. He has come from Dubuque, where he was chief clerk at the Appalachian. He never before located any farther north than Dubuque. He was previously connected with the Appalachian at Knoxville, Tenn., and the Kimball of Atlanta, Ga. His hotel experience has given him a wide acquaintance with the traveling public, by whom he is held in high esteem.

RELIEF LIES IN PUBLIC OPINION
Essence of Findings of North Dakota Railroad Commission on Wrecks.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald).—Relief from careless railroad wrecks can only come through the court of public opinion, according to W. H. Stutsman, president of the North Dakota board of railroad commissioners, in reviewing the results of the recent hearing held in Fargo when a number of prominent railroad officials participated and placed before the board their views of wreck causes.

President Stutsman has presented a complete review of the proceedings, which, briefly stated, are:

A majority of the railroad wrecks are caused by carelessness. The wreck of the Great Northern near Sharon, N. D., was due to an imperfect or "pipe" rail. The railroad companies are doing everything in their power to reduce the number of wrecks and make travel more safe.

Rules of the railroads with reference to protection of trains by trainmen are such that they can easily be complied with.

Relief from wrecks caused by carelessness will only come when public sentiment brings about the condition that to disobey or be the cause of a wreck is a public disgrace.

MORE COLD DUE AT END OF THE WEEK
Washington, Jan. 29. A marked rise in temperature will overshadow the Eastern states the forecast issued by the weather bureau says, and moderate temperatures will prevail over the eastern half of the country during the greater part of the coming week.

Over the Middle West, the Northwest and on the Pacific slope, the North American temperatures will continue to prevail near the close of the week, when a change to decidedly lower temperatures will overshadow these regions.

This cold wave will appear in the Northwestern states on Friday or Saturday, whence it will advance eastward and southward over practically all districts east of the Rocky mountains.

The next general storm to cross the country will appear in the Far West Tuesday or Wednesday, crossing the Middle West Thursday or Friday, and the Eastern states near the close of the week, to be attended by general snows in northern and rains in southern districts. Frequent rains are probable the coming week on the Pacific slope.

These figures are given in a statement of the trustees of the Great Northern Iron Ore Properties, which is just being issued to the holders of the trustees' certificates and which covers the period from Dec. 31, 1910, to Dec. 31, 1911. The trustees are L. W. Hill, J. N. Hill, W. J. Hill and E. W. Nichols. Lewis W. Hill is president and J. H. Gruber, secretary.

The Great Northern Mining company is the subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation which took the lease of the so-called Hill lands in August, 1907. Recently notice was given that the lease would be terminated on Jan. 1, 1912. The trustees say: "While the lease will continue in operation, according to the terms of the lease, it is not certain that it will be renewed."

Consumptive's Body Is Found During Search for Brother.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—While hunting for Antonio Maggioro, Jr., the Italian boy whose father feared he had been kidnapped, police today found the body of a consumptive, for whom they have been searching for three weeks, suspecting he had knowledge of "Black Hand" outrages.

But Michael will not be arrested. A few minutes before the body of the consumptive was found, the body of a man in which he had hidden, death had claimed him, he was told.

"His enemies cursed him, and he could have no luck," the widow wailed.

The indictment was returned in November, 1909. Since then the experts have been working on the books to determine whether the facts warranted the prosecution of Spensley. That point will now be decided by the department of justice at Washington.

LITTLETON TO RETIRE

New York Congressman Will Quit at End of Present Term.

Forced to Be Untrue to His Party or His Convictions.

(By Willis J. Abbott.)
Washington, Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—After less than six months of congressional life, Representative Martin Littleton of New York announced his purpose of retiring at the end of his present term. Mr. Littleton is disappointed in congress and congress, too, is disappointed in Littleton. By that I do not mean that he has failed to show the great ability that is in him. On more than one occasion he has done that and held his hearers enthralled while railing out his mellifluous phrases in support of some measure in which he was really interested.

But the fact is that there have been but few issues pressed by the Democratic majority in the Sixty-second congress which have really awakened his interest. He admitted this frankly enough in conversation with me today. "There is but one issue in a congress numbering among its members many men of surpassing talents so much was expected of me."

HETTY GREEN'S SON
TALKS OF WOMEN

Sex in New York Bitterly Attacked By Wealthy Bachelor.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 30.—Col. Edward Howard Robinson Green of Texas, son of Hetty Green of New York, arrived here today, heralded as a man who wants to "marry a woman, not a clotheshorse."

"Children are the last thing they want," he said of New York women. "None of them know how to cook or sew. And, holy horrors! They would deny that their good old homely grandmothers knew how to wash clothes!"

"If a fashionable New York woman went up Fifth avenue with a ring in her nose, the jeweler could not supply the demands. They want to be seen around the theaters and restaurants so as to be seen by men not their husbands."

Asked if leap year might not seal his fate with some Western beauty qualifying on domestic lines, he said: "It may be. I'm but human."

ALLOW THEIR LETTERS TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Governor Explains His Statement as to the Weekly's Influence.

Apologizes and Is Forgiven By the New York Editor.

New York, Jan. 30.—The New York Evening Post has sought, for the sake of justice to all concerned, to secure the publication of the correspondence between Governor Wilson and Col. Harvey. In that sense it applies to them both. Neither wished to be put in the position of giving out private letters, but both assented to the publication with the distinct understanding that the initiative came from the Evening Post.

Wilson to Harvey.
The first letter, addressed to Col. Harvey by Governor Wilson, is as follows:
"University club, Fifth avenue and Fifty-fourth street, Dec. 21, 1911. Personal. My dear Colonel: Every day I am confirmed in the judgment that my mind is a one-track road, and can run only one train of thought at a time. A long time after that interview with you and Wm. Henry at the Manhattan club it came over me that when (at the close of the interview) you asked me that question about the Weekly, I answered it simply as a matter of fact."

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 30.—No repetition of yesterday's serious rioting in which one death took place, occurred today when the various textile mills opened their gates. The whole city was under control of the militia and picketing near the mill district was stopped by the soldiers. There appeared to be a slight increase in the number of mill employees who went to work as compared with yesterday.

C. S. DARROW IS INDICTED

Former Attorney for McNamara Accused of Bribing Jurors.

Franklin Is Said to Have Confessed Before Grand Jury.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 30.—Clarence Darrow, formerly chief counsel for McNamara brothers in the dynamiting cases, has been indicted here on charges of bribery and corruption in James B. McNamara's trial.

The action was anticipated by Mr. Darrow, who engaged counsel last week. His attorney says he has assurance that Darrow is innocent.

Whether the indictments returned against Darrow by the county grand jury were based on an alleged confession to that body by Bert H. Franklin, former McNamara defense detective, charged with jury bribing, probably will not be definitely known until the case comes to trial.

Soon after the indictments against Darrow for alleged corruption of jurors in the McNamara case were returned yesterday, rumors became prevalent that Franklin had told all he knew of the alleged jury bribing to the grand jury.

Rumor Not Denied.
Neither the assistant district attorneys, who have had charge of the investigation before the grand jury, or Darrow himself would make any statement in denial. The prosecutors declared the public would be compelled to wait for the opening of the trial before learning what evidence was in possession of the state.

There are four counts in the two (Continued on page 5, third column.)

TAFT SPENDS DAY

President Has Bad Cold But Will Keep His Speaking Dates.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 30.—President Taft arrived in Columbus from Cleveland at 7:14 this morning. The president will remain here until tomorrow afternoon, make four speeches and attend the dedication of the new post office.

The president remained on his private car for breakfast and later was escorted to his hotel by state and city officials, troops from the Columbus barracks, a body of the national guard and other organizations. A public reception at the hotel followed the remainder of the day's program called for the president's presence at a luncheon given by the Columbus chamber of commerce, the dedication of the postoffice this afternoon and the McKinley day banquet tonight.

Tomorrow morning Mr. Taft will meet Ohio editors and their underlings at the Ohio constitutional convention, now in session here. At 1 o'clock the president's train will leave for Akron, Ohio.

The president is still bothered with a cold, but it is not believed that he will in any way interfere with the program here or at Akron tomorrow night. Dr. Thomas L. Rhoades, who accompanies the president, said his throat last night and again this morning.

House Democrats Decide Against Building and Navy Appropriations.

Hobson Fights Hard for Battleships—Other Congress Affairs.

Washington, Jan. 30.—There will be no appropriations for battleships or public buildings at this session of congress. This was the decision of the Democrats of the house after a spirited caucus last night.

Elimination of a battleship appropriation was a surprise, the caucus having been called for the purpose of considering a $16,000,000 public building bill, recommended by the committee on public buildings and grounds. Representative Burnett of Alabama offered an amendment to a resolution to disburse with the public buildings bill, that no battleship appropriation be reported to the house.

Representative Hobson of Alabama headed a bitter attack on the amendment, but it was passed, 38 to 65.

The savings resulting from this action of the caucus is estimated by the Democratic leaders to aggregate about (Continued on page 5, third column.)

Republicans in Chicago Will Be Asked to Show Preference.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—A preferential or straw vote "primary election" will be conducted by Chicago Republicans Wednesday. On that date ward caucuses will be held at which delegates will be chosen for the Cook county Republican convention. At a meeting of the county committee last night it was decided to ask each caucus to take a vote on the names of Republican possibilities, so that the county convention may be guided thereby.

Morrison Subpoenaed to Produce Vouchers and Receipts.

McNamara Expenses and Defense Fund to Be Looked Into.

Gompers Says He Is Glad of Action at Indianapolis.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and Henry H. Fletcher, cashier of the Riggs National bank, which is the depository for the federation's funds and also for the McNamara defense fund, have been subpoenaed to appear on Feb. 1 before the federal grand jury at Indianapolis which is investigating dynamite plots.

The records for which the grand jury asks will fill two large trunks. The subpoena directs Morrison to produce cancelled checks and records of all receipts and disbursements made by the federation, or by himself, between April 23, 1911 and Jan. 1, 1912.

Little of Defense Fund Left.
As those dates cover a period subsequent to the arrest of the McNamara brothers, Mr. Morrison infers that the grand jury intends to inquire into the disposition of the McNamara defense fund. Further than saying that out of approximately $25,000 paid in, little more than $5,000 remains, Mr. Morrison today declined to discuss its expenditures. It has been stated by labor leaders, however, that the bulk of the money was turned over to Clarence Darrow, the attorney indicted for bribery yesterday at Los Angeles.

"I will appreciate this opportunity to show all our books and have the federation's accounts investigated by the federal authorities," said Morrison (Continued on page 5, first column.)

Petition Is Filed With Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Class and commodity freight rates to Denver and other points in Colorado from Chicago, Peoria, Minneapolis, St. Paul and St. Louis river territory, are attacked as unreasonable, discriminatory and unjust in a petition filed with the interstate commerce commission today by the Colorado manufacturers' association and the Denver Chamber of Commerce.

The petition asked that the transportation from the Atlantic seaboard, whether all-rail or ocean-and-rail, be reduced to 25 cents a hundred pounds on the freight, and such reduction on commodities as the commission may deem proper.

WATER POWER
LAW INVALID

Wisconsin Statute Is Disposed of By State Supreme Court.

"Wrong Conception of State's Interest" Involved, Says Justice.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 30.—The Wisconsin supreme court in a decision today held the water power law enacted by the 1911 legislature unconstitutional. The law sought to vest in the state all right to water powers heretofore held by corporations and individuals, subject only to lease.

The decision is by Justice Timlin and it was the unanimous conclusion of the justices participating in making it. Justices Kerwin and Barnes did not sit.

The court declared the law involved the wrong conception of the state's interest in the power element of navigable water and the capacity to deal with it.

The gist of the court's decision is summed up in the following closing language of Justice Timlin's exhaustive discussion of all the questions involved:

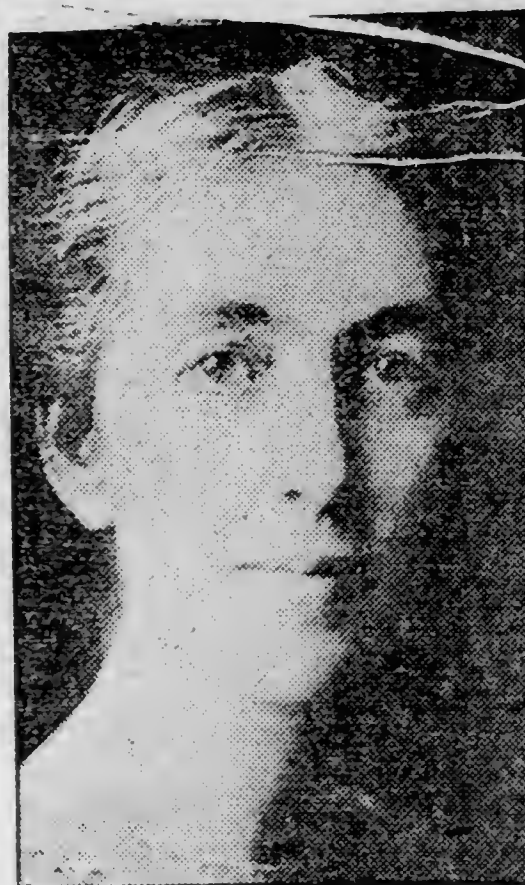

"Thus, the all-pervading necessary effect of such chapter is to take property which is in fact private for a purpose declared to be public without rendering any compensation therefor. The necessary effect—if enforced—of the purpose in a legal sense of chapter 652, laws of 1911, brings state appropriation of the private property of riparian proprietors owning the banks of navigable rivers in a manner not warranted by the fundamental laws, and those portions of the act which do not directly deal with the assertion of state title, being features designed to render such assertions efficacious in law, form an inseparable unconstitutional entirety."

THE EVENING STORY

THE LATEST IMPROVEMENT

By Kilbourne Cobles.

Kaye is a handy man with tools, and then he is a very good fellow, not pottering round the house. Now that he owns "Westwind," a pretty summer cottage, he is an opportunist to indulge his taste. Mrs. Kaye sometimes gets a little impatient, for it is not entirely restful or convenient to have one's home in a continual state of alteration.

Roland, she said one day, when there appeared to be a slight lull in his activities, "now that you have the well sweep, I think I'll have a little afternoon tea on Friday if you are sure you won't be building another arbor or making over the front porch after putting any more new windows in the dining room. I'd really like to have company once when the place wasn't littered with kindling wood and shavings, though of course, dear, I like all your improvements."

"Well, I'll try not to let my improvements bother you Friday," Kaye returned, a bit crumpled, for he felt that his talents were not fully appreciated. "I'll go to town Friday for the day, and let you and your company have the place to yourselves."

"Why, Roland, you know I'd love to have you here."

"Yes, of course, Nell, but I really should go to town oftener, and you know I'm not specially fond of tea nights," Mrs. Kaye, realizing that this statement was made no further protest against her husband's absence. She was really touched by his self-denial in postponing until after her tea the enlargement of the linen closet and the construction of a swinging porch seat, which, of all the work he had in mind, seemed of the most immediate importance.

"I really wish you weren't going," Roland, she said when Friday morning came. "It just seems too bad for me to entertain when you are away."

"Oh, well, Nell, you'll have a better time without me, and I'll try to get everything arranged at the office so I can stay out all next week and get the place fixed up in good shape."

Mrs. Kaye tried to smile and look cheerful as she waved him a good bye when he drove away, but she felt a little lonesome and doleful for never before had she given any sort of party at Westwind without her husband's help. A regret, too, of her lack of enthusiasm. Even when her gaily dressed friends were merry and laughing on the lawn in the afternoon, her heart was still a little heavy, and she found herself wondering how she would manage if Roland would come out on the 520 local or take the 6 o'clock train.

The weather was so ideally lovely that she decided to turn the affair into a party of tea and chocolate, with the accompanying sandwiches, and had returned to the house before Mrs. Kaye could reach the porch, the maids were busy changing on the lawn in the afternoon, her heart was still a little heavy, and she found herself wondering how she would manage if Roland would come out on the 520 local or take the 6 o'clock train.

"O, mam," exclaimed Angie, "we couldn't get the tea and chocolate, and then Mrs. Kaye announced as firmly as her trembling voice would allow, 'You must get on with you!'"

"It's more likely some thievish tramp was eating it," said Sarah. "It's a man's voice raving most fearful, mam, and pounding and jumping, too," said Sarah. "Mercy, how dreadful. What can it be?" exclaimed Angie, "and then Mrs. Kaye announced as firmly as her trembling voice would allow, 'You must get on with you!'"

MAKE ACCIDENTS LESS FREQUENT
Lighthouse Bureau Head
Seeks Method of Spreading Notices Among Masters.

G. R. Putnam, commissioner of the United States bureau of lighthouses, is striving to formulate some system which will insure that information changes in aids to navigation is communicated to masters and pilots and others who may be interested. His interest in the matter resulted from the fact that following marine casualties, it is not infrequently asserted that the reason was due to a change having been made in an aid to navigation, concerning which the master of the damaged vessel had received no information.

"To guard further against the possibility of accident due to this cause," says Commissioner Putnam, in a communication recently issued, "the bureau desires to avail itself of every practicable means to insure that the notices of changes in aids to navigation are made in an aid to navigation, concerning which the master of the damaged vessel had received no information."

First—The issuance of notices six months in advance for important changes, unless these are urgent.
Second—The issuance of notices two months in advance for all changes, unless urgent.
Third—These periods to be modified so far as may be necessary in the lake districts.
Fourth—Publication of the notice of the change to be repeated in the bureau's weekly notice to mariners, in the first issue of each month until the change is carried out.
Fifth—In addition to the notice in the weekly publication, to issue important notices in the form of a bulletin with display heading, the body of which will be the same as in the weekly notice.

Sixth—To take measures to have the bulletin form of notice prominently posted in places frequented by mariners and others that information as to changes in aids to navigation, such as customs houses, chambers of commerce, maritime exchanges, harbor masters' offices, consular offices, ship chandlers, steamboat offices, brokerage offices, shipyards, rooms of pilot associations, A. M. & F. harbors and marine underwriters' offices.

Inspectors in the various lighthouse districts are requested to obtain and report to the bureau, suggestions from persons interested in effecting changes in aids to navigation, and to obtain the cooperation of marine underwriters to accomplish this result.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 30.—Court officers today turned away a curious crowd that sought admission to the courtroom where Allison M. MacFarland is on trial for the murder of his wife. The state charges that co-operation of marine underwriters to accomplish this result.

Attendants are requested to obtain and report to the bureau, suggestions from persons interested in effecting changes in aids to navigation, and to obtain the cooperation of marine underwriters to accomplish this result.

WEST END NEWS

WILL CELEBRATE MIDSUMMER DAY

Swedish Societies Will Again Combine to Observe Holiday.

Mid-summer day will again be celebrated by the Scandinavian people of Duluth. A meeting of the local branch of the Swedish-American National league will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 15, at the Columbia hall, 212 West Second street, at which time the local members will arrange the preliminary plans for the festival which will be held this year on June 23 or 24.

The Swedish-American National league is composed of five members from each of the various Swedish churches of the city. From these committees the various officers of the league are chosen. The societies now in the league are: Vasa Order, Sons of Sweden, S. H. & E. F., Orpheus Singing Society, Svea Glee club, North Star lodge, I. O. G. T. and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. The officers of the league for the past year were: Andrew Hornstrom, president; John Johnson, secretary; and A. T. Lund, treasurer.

New officers for the year will be elected and plans for the celebration will be made at the meeting the middle of next month. The affair will be made an annual one by the local people, and after the celebration last year, numerous inquiries have come from different parts of the country about the plan of celebration.

The local societies simply follow the old Swedish custom of celebrating mid-summer day. The day is generally celebrated in various parts of Europe and one of the greatest festivals is held in different parts of Sweden on mid-summer day. The plan has been recently adopted in America.

BANQUET BY LUTHER LEAGUE.

The league recently held its annual election and Miss Ellen Bahlen was chosen president. The other officers for the year are: Miss Edith Hagberg, secretary; Harold Olson, treasurer; Miss Edith Olson, organist; Miss Thilla Johnson, librarian; and Miss Della Olson, assistant librarian. Miss Hildegard Miller, George Anderson, Miss Victoria Benson, Herman Olson and Miss Lillie Larson were elected for the program committee, and a constitution committee, consisting of George Anderson, Miss Thilla Olson and Miss Ellen Bahlen, was appointed.

Several special committees will be appointed within a few weeks by Miss Bahlen, who was authorized by the members of the league to appoint a sick committee, a social committee, a membership committee of five each, and three on a finance committee.

CROOKSTON MAN WEDS AT CLOQUET

Miss Mildred Marlowe and Adelord Mayrand Are Married.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A pretty wedding was celebrated Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, when Miss Mildred Marlowe, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marlowe of this city, and Adelord Mayrand of Crookston were married by Fathers Lemmer and Lemire.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Marlowe, and the bridegroom by his brother, Leo Mayrand. The groom formerly resided in Cloquet and was dressed in white satin with silk net overdress, made of entrain and almost covered by a brilliant train. He carried white roses and the white prayer book.

What the bride wore was blue with silk net overdress. A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, and in the afternoon a reception was held for the friends of the couple. The couple left on the 5 o'clock train for an extended wedding trip, expecting to be at home after a couple of months in Crookston.

600 GROCERS EXPECTED

Convention Here Next Month Likely to Break Some Records.

Governor Eberhart and Louis W. Hill Among the Speakers.

Active preparations are being made for the next annual convention of the Minnesota Retail Grocers' and General Merchants' association, which will take place in Duluth on Feb. 20, 21 and 22. It is expected that this will be the largest convention in the history of the association. As many as 600 retail grocers and general merchants from all parts of the state will assemble here for the occasion. If the expectations of the officers and local committee that are now doing the preliminary work, so realized, many merchants of Wisconsin and the Dakotas have already signified their intention of coming. The officers hope that all the Duluth grocers and general merchants will endeavor to attend the convention.

The local committee, consisting of: George H. Schulenburg, J. E. Roos, Simon Clark, J. W. Kent, G. A. Hjorpe, J. O. Johnson, J. W. Cunningham, John Moir, Harry Thatcher, M. R. Bush, Edward Simeon, J. E. Foulister, George M. Peterson, secretary of the Duluth Retail Grocers' association, is sending an invitation on behalf of the association to all retail grocers and merchants of the state. The convention will be held at the Hotel Savoy, 58th to 59th St., overlooking Central Park.

News and Views of Minnesota Politics

Collier in the Third.

Senator Julius Collier of Shakopee will probably try to break the Republican grip in the Third district this year by accepting the Democratic nomination for congress and making a campaign against Congressman Davis. Senator Collier's friends are urging him to make the run and he will probably consent.

No small task lies before a Democratic candidate in the Third district. Time was when the Third was a Democratic stronghold. It was then that O. M. Hall in 1894 and since that time the district has been Republican. However, a shrewd politician and a peerless organizer, he turned the district over to Davis in 1902. The present congressman has maintained the organization by a judicious distribution of his patronage. Davis has a machine of the steam-roller type and his friends are determined to pulverize any sort of Democratic opposition.

The Democrats of the district are not so certain. Senator Collier's popularity in his home district is shown by the fact that he has been in the senate continuously since 1899 and in 1910 was re-elected at the polls. He was born in Shakopee and has a wide personal acquaintance among the voters of the district. If any Democrat can replace the Third district Republican, Collier is the man and there should be a warm contest if he and Davis meet at the polls.

Roosevelt Strong in First.
H. H. Dunn, speaker of the house, expects a Roosevelt delegation from the First district to the Republican state delegate convention. Mr. Dunn was interviewed in St. Paul yesterday and declared that while the sentiment in the First district is anti-Taft, it is not pro-Roosevelt. He predicted that Roosevelt delegates will be sent from every county except Winona county, the home of James A. Tawney.

"The feeling in my district is very strong," he said, "People of Southern Minnesota are disgusted with the leaders of the La Follette movement." On the gubernatorial situation, Speaker Dunn was true to the administration and said that Governor Eberhart was the favorite against the field of candidates to date. He refused to discuss the editorial suggestion of Congressman Anderson.

The Field Against Eberhart.
The Long Prairie leader last week declared that there is no fear of a division of progressive votes. He will support Governor Eberhart's chances of re-election. The leader may be regarded as speaking for William B. Lee, Sam Y. Gordon in his Browns Valley Tribune gave notice and now the Chisholm Tribune-Herald, edited by J. S. Anderson, Mr. Gordon's secretary and campaign manager, comes out with a conciliatory editorial declaring for Eberhart against Eberhart. The Tribune-Herald says:

"The members of the present administration are chucking over the board the state secretary, John Eberhart. It is not a divided field, gentlemen. It is a field thoroughly united upon the one proposition of a eral manager of the Shredded Wheat company, Niagara Falls, N. Y., W. J. Nolan of Minneapolis, the well-known humorist, J. W. Green, Cleveland, the national secretary, George W. C. Hall, Minneapolis, the state president, George H. Schulenburg, Duluth, state first vice president, Thomas Guinness, Harnesville, the state second vice president, J. J. Ryan, St. Paul, the state secretary, John Eberhart of Minneapolis, the state treasurer, J. E. Gravel, and J. E. Williams and Fred Lorenz of Minneapolis. The United Commercial Travelers will entertain the delegates on the evening of the first day of the convention. The whole gathering will attend a musical entertainment at the Masonic temple. After the entertainment is over, the guests and their hosts will go from the temple to the hotel. On the second evening the delegates and their wives will be the hosts. On that evening the delegates and their wives will go to the hotel. On the third evening the delegates will be shown the wholesale and manufacturing plants of Duluth.

The state program or year book, published by the Duluth grocers' association, is one of the most elaborate ever issued for the association, and will undoubtedly be highly prized by the delegates.

George E. Elbert of St. Paul, the state president, in an article published in "Ginger," a magazine issued monthly by the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, does this city the justice to say, "Duluth always makes a good" He writes:

"Since our last convention our association has accomplished much for the benefit of all. Our legislative report this time will be the best ever heard at a convention. We got our peddlers' license and transient merchants' license laws through the last legislature, after sixteen years of hard fighting; also a law which makes it a misdemeanor to overdraw bank accounts. The next thing on our legislative program should be a cool garnishment law and a law cutting the present $1,000,000 homestead exemption down to nothing on claim for the necessities of life. Our organizers have visited 125 towns during the year, but in many new organizations, and encouraged the old ones. A great many of the towns during the year have adopted the co-operative delivery system. Next and Sunday work in the business is practically done away with."

common fight on the present machine, and this paper believes any of the candidates mentioned are big enough to yield any personal ambitions they may have for the good of the cause.

For Woodrow Wilson.
The Monticello Times declares in favor of a Woodrow Wilson delegation from Minnesota to the Democratic national convention and calls attention to the fact that many prominent Democrats of the state are lining up for Wilson. Bryan supporters and men who were not political friends of the Commissioner are getting together in support of the New Jersey governor. Among those mentioned by the Times are John Lind, S. Stockwell, E. S. Corser, T. T. Hudson of Duluth, C. E. Macdonald of St. Cloud, Times, E. V. Nasaly of the Little Falls Herald, J. R. Bennett, Senator J. D. Sullivan and others.

May Elect State Committee.
The suggestion is being advanced that the Republican state convention this year elect the members of the state central committee, including the chairman. Such a course would avoid a recurrence of the action that put Ed Smith at the head of the committee and the appointment of the committee was left to the candidates, which meant that many of the reputation and affiliations could gain the place at the head of the committee.

The Oatonna Journal-Chronicle declares for an unopposed delegation from Steele county to the Republican nominating convention, the theory being that the delegation will be Progressive and will go to the candidate having the best chance of defeating Eberhart for the nomination. The Journal-Chronicle says: "The multiplicity of candidates for the Republican nomination for governor, and as to the new ones, of such good material makes it look at this time as though Steele county's wisest course would be to send an unopposed delegation to the state convention—unless we want to give that delegation instructions not to vote for Eberhart in any event. The time has come when we want something more than a smooth, sedate, accepting political trimmer for governor. We want a positive man, a man with progressive ideas and the courage to stand for them. The state has outgrown the Eberhart type of governor. The number of candidates opposed to him, however, makes his defeat less certain unless the progressive counties forego instructions beyond electing the right sort of delegates and letting them understand that they must not vote for Eberhart. It is a case of the opposition strength divided, and divided helplessly if progressive delegates are given iron-bound instructions."

COUNTERFEITER GETS ONE DAY IN THE JAIL.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 30.—George Wilson, accused of having manufactured counterfeit $5 gold pieces described by secret service operatives as being the best imitations of money found on the coast in fifteen years, served a sentence of one day in the Alameda county jail and paid a fine of $250. Affidavits as to Wilson's previous good character were responsible for the light sentence.

BROUSSARD WILL GO TO THE U. S. SENATE.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 30.—The election of Representative Robert Broussard as United States senator to succeed Senator John R. Thorn is assured by the withdrawal from a second Democratic primary of the candidacy of Governor Jared V. Sanders. The Democratic nomination is equivalent to election.

Milwaukee Conductor Killed.

LOTS OF SOFT, WAVY, FLUFFY HAIR AND NO MORE DANDRUFF

Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine and just try this—stops falling hair at once.

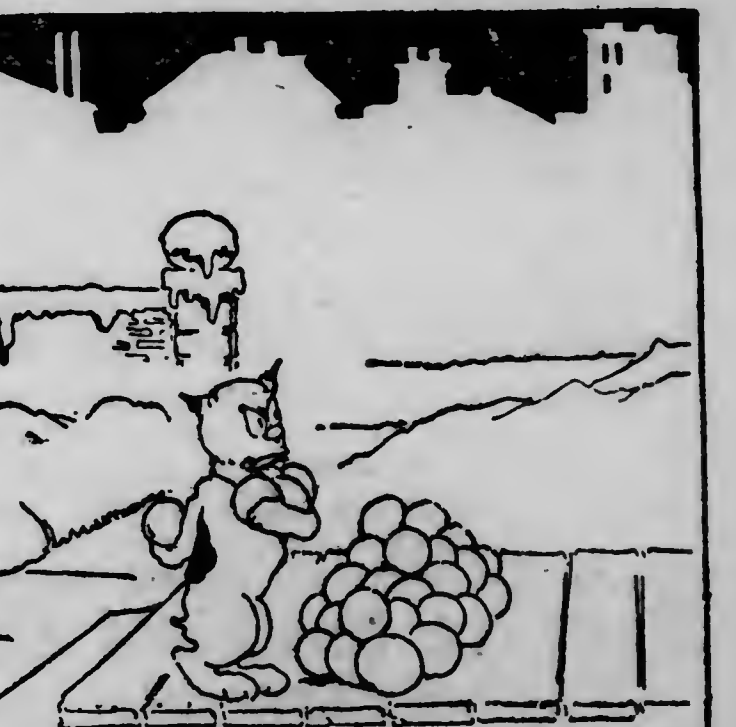

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp, of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Ten minutes after applying all the dandruff will disappear, all itching will cease and there will be no more falling hair. Millions of men and women use Knowlton's Danderine and they never have dandruff, itchy scalp or falling hair—they know that it keeps the scalp clean and healthy and makes the hair grow heavy, long and beautiful.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

NORTH DAKOTA IS GREAT PRODUCER

Is First in Wheat and Flax,
Second in Barley,
Fifth in Oats.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—That North Dakota "is farther ahead than ever" is the contention of State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Gilbreath.

"Again in 1911 has North Dakota more than maintained her pre-eminence in magnitude of acreage and yields of the principal small grain crops of the United States," he said. "The latest comparative statistical tabulation shows that the state stands first in acreage and yield of spring wheat with 1,150,000 acres and a yield of 42,940,000 bushels. Minnesota comes next with an acreage of 4,350,000 acres and a yield of 1,200,000 bushels. Washington was third with 1,810,000 acres and 25,445,000 bushels.

In flaxseed the state of North Dakota still more emphatically demonstrates her supremacy with an acreage of 1,200,000 and a yield of 2,140,000 bushels, constituting nearly half of the total corn yield and acreage for the entire United States.

State, Montana, was second with a yield and acreage about one-third as large as this state, with South Dakota and Minnesota following closely.

Third in Barley.
"In barley the state stands third on the list of commonwealths with 1,050,000 acres and fourth in yields with 20,475,000 bushels. California leads in this cereal with 48,000,000 bushels and Minnesota is third with 28,025,000, while Wisconsin is just ahead of North Dakota with 20,510,000 bushels.

"Fifth in acreage with 2,180,000 acres and sixth in yield with 51,250,000 bushels, North Dakota very creditably rounds out her agricultural record for 1911—admittedly an off year.

"Even more remarkable than the foregoing and more significant than any as an indication of the magnificent agricultural vitality of the state, is the progress made during the past two years in the acreage of North Dakota. The acreage as returned by the state assessors in the spring of 1911 was 45,246 acres, compared with 230,197 acres in 1910, being a gain of nearly 100 per cent."

The Lean Years of the Fighting Game—Is Jess Pedersen a Swede?—Minnesota Gets It in the Neck at the Conference.

(BY BRUCE.)

WHAT a low state has the fighting game come. Yesterday over the wires came tripping and laughing, no doubt, the story of the re-entring of the ring of Marvin Hart, one time plumber, later fighter and still later and to date, booze fighter. When the heavy fighting situation has come to the state where Marvin Hart can ever get his name in the papers in connection with a fight with Johnson, it is time that we cease to regard the heavyweight situation as one worthy of serious consideration. In France the place is on foot to manufacture a heavyweight champion. Just how they are going to bring about the finished product, it is difficult to say. George Carpentier, the young Frenchman who has fought his way up from the featherweight champion to the championship of the French middleweights, may be the example of the manufacture of a white hope champion.

They may have some secret process of putting the weight on the erstwhile featherweight. If we could place about 125 pounds on the sturdy frame of Ad Wolgast we might have a champion who would cause a laugh every time his name was mentioned. But the chance of making a heavyweight champion out of Wolgast is not more distant than the outlook for one decent fighter among the present crop of fourflishers.

Oh for the days of Corbett, Chynski, McCoy, Fitzsimmons, Sharkey, Jeffries and the rest of the real ones. Those days have passed, like Halley's comet, and alas we are left to mourn for some of the pugilists like the dear old days of yore brought out.

A bunch of hams are at the present time collecting money under false pretenses. The white hope idea is being worked to death. They talk about the wrestlers being dubs and all that, but there are some really good wrestlers in the heavyweight division, and that is much more than can be said regarding the fighting game.

It looks as if we must wait until some really wonderful young fighter does rise in the heavyweight division before we can hope for any great interest in the big fellows. Flynn is a shine. Morris is a joke, a monumental one. Tom Kennedy is a simp when it comes to be classed with champions. Al Kaufmann is what some of us believed him long ago. Out of all the large bunch of large fighters in the world today, there appears to be one real large bunch of large fighters in the world today. Never were the ranks so depleted. Jack Johnson asks $30,000 for his end for fighting any of the dubs that are insupportable today. He should be willing to pay the public to come and watch him work with some of the present product. Really, gentlemen, it is awful.

OME one from Ironwood, Mich., writes in and asks, without courtesy and without a name, whether we are trying to deceive the public by calling Jess Pedersen a Swede. We are not. The true facts in this case are that there seems to be some controversy over the nationality of the big European. Some claim that he is a Dane and still others claim that he is a Swede. The Chicago papers further complicate the situation by calling Pedersen a Norwegian.

If the matter becomes much more heated it may be necessary to write to his manager and ascertain once for all the nationality of the big fellow. The letter from Ironwood is the big aviation meet at Los Angeles. One man called up the office and said that he knew Pedersen in the old country and that he was a Swede. Until further proof of Pedersen's real nationality is at hand we are perfectly willing to toss a coin for the choice.

LITTLE AD WOLGAST comes through with the statement that Jim Flynn is a four mouthed fighter and one unworthy to get his name in the paper. The little champion says that he is unworthy of holding the heavyweight champion of the country. Unless Johnson becomes afflicted with a combination of locomotor ataxia and sciatic rheumatism there seems little likelihood that the Pueblo pug will ever have his mug hung in the gallery of immortals that is in the possession of Richard K. Fox.

DICK FERRIS, who used to tread the boards of the old Metropolitan, and who used to have curly hair and who has little now, is one of the promoters of the big aviation meet at Los Angeles. The former Duluth leading man—some are so unkind as to say that Richard could never act—took hold of the proposition when it promised to be a failure and made a success of it. Dick Ferris may never have been written up by Allan Dale, which is a sign of historic ability or prosperity, but there has never been any doubt of his being a very good showman. Since going to the land of the sunshine and the intense love for the native son, Richard has done very well.

IF you notice how Minnesota won the battle for summer baseball? Like the other glorious victories Minnesota has won in the conference, it was most decisive—for the other fellows. That man Paige is really one of the greatest diplomats we have ever had in this part of the country. While it is a trifle early, might we suggest that he be sent to one of the important posts where his great abilities will be more generally recognized.

There are at the present time gentle rumors creeping around in the nursery repeating that Minnesota is likely to leave the conference. Don't worry, you timid ones, for when it comes to the part of action there will be nothing doing on the part of the pale leaders of the brave faculty.

Along with such weak sisters as Iowa and Northwestern, schools that have been trying out the game, we have allowed Chicago to dominate and run over us. There was one school in the West that had the pride to refuse to submit to this state of things. Michigan is not a member of the Western conference, and every lover of true sport, be he a member of Minnesota or Podunk, has a greater admiration for the stand that was taken by the athletic authorities of the Wolverine institution.

Let us say frankly that it is politics that has brought about the present deplorable situation in the West. Talk of purity in the light of some of the things A. Stagg has done, is to laugh. Ask Stagg about Phil Wellington. That's only one case; there are lots of others. Because the athletic authorities of Minnesota don't know where they are at, and have not the sense or the courage to act, the alumni of the state school are forced to sit back helpless and listen to a lot of tommy rot about purity. It's one huge and untamed joke.

In the eyes of hundreds of the alumni of the university the school has been made to appear foolish. Things are getting to that stage where men with common sense and business training are beginning to wonder what kind of men we have at the head of our schools. They are losing their interest in the game, and you can blame them?

No, Prof. Archibald, we can't quite get you; we don't follow you, old chap.

ANOTHER VETERAN DUE FOR THE MINOR LEAGUES

DANNY HOFFMAN. After serving for years with the majors, the time for the passing of Danny Hoffman seems at hand. It is said that the veteran is to go to the Indianapolis team. Hoffman has been a great player in his day, but like the rest, the passing time is near at hand.

SPORTING NOTES

The Cubs own a pitcher named Lavender. Is he a small or a large?

"President" Powers seems to be pre-paring in a league that isn't. Likewise, it is said that the supposed to be coming United States organization.

Big League magnates almost universally cry out against the idea of having their players numbered with numbers on their shirtsleeves. This is considered good form in some minor leagues, but the better players regard being placarded like a bunch of horses.

Was Danny Shay pushed or shoved by George Felsch in Kansas City? It wasn't but a few days after the game that the manager had retired from baseball for good to enter the hotel business that Charles Carr, was named as his successor. Now Shay has dissolved partnership with his looking mate, Ray Layley, and is looking for a 1912 berth.

Pitcher Tom Hughes of Washington signed a contract with a large X the other day. Tom isn't literate. His hand is swollen from an injury so he had to use the other. This is the first instance where the X has been used on a baseball agreement.

Judge Elmer C. Millon, son of Ten Millon, who reports to the Cardinals this coming season, is going to run for the gubernatorial nomination of his Western state.

If Rubie Marquard can eliminate his job, McGraw may pair him off with Faust as a mascot. Faust, by the way, is not scouting to the Giants. "I have already found one new player for you," Faust told the Giant's manager. When asked who he was, Faust said: "Paul, the pitcher out of Kansas. Why, he has never been here, but I have, and this year I am going behind him, but for you and he is going to pitch."

There is no little class to that Yale field and track team. At the meeting to elect a captain yesterday, the vote resulted in the selection of Bobby Gardner, pole vaulter, leader of goals in the football team, and prominent in club and social circles in New Haven.

Washington has returned recruits Scott and Ainsworth to the Youngstown club. These are the players concerning whose releases to Washington there were charges printed in Youngstown against Former Manager McAleer of the Senators.

Capt. Larry Doyle of the Giants is the guest of President R. F. Kinsella of the Springfield, Ill., Baseball association.

United States league found the cities all right; now all it needs are the backers, money, sites, grandstands and players.

Soccer threatens to become as popular in the universities and colleges as draw poker.

"We always believed it to be a big league party, yet the Democrats select Baltimore for their national convention. Griffith is at least one manager who does not believe the Red Sox will be at the top of the heap this year, but he makes no prediction as to the chances of his own team."

"Pos didn't think of it," writes the New York Evening Sun over this bit of lyric effluence:

"Once a medium was sitting Where the busy spooks were fitting, When a stranger, dressed in white, Broke in, shouting as he came: 'Have a trance! Get busy! Start it! Break it! Impart it! Only to impart his name. Who will pitch the opening game?'"

Jack Sheridan, veteran American league pitcher, is spending the winter in San Francisco. "I see by the papers that the American league has voted to pension me and give me a medal to wear on my breast," said Sheridan recently.

INTEREST IS AROUSED IN BASKET BALL SPORT

The Y. M. C. A. physical section committee is trying to promote interest in championship basketball for Northern Minnesota. The Northern Hardware company has put up a trophy and left the details in the hands of the Y. M. C. A. committee. This is to be a challenge affair. The boat club team now holds the championship, having won it from the Gliftons, who were the winners of the recent Duluth-Superior league. Rules have been laid down by the physical section committee to govern these games as follows:

- 1.—Duluth Y. M. C. A. physical section committee members are promoters, controllers and final authority on all questions relating to this trophy.
- 2.—Spalding's Amateur Athletic union rules are to govern, except in relation to the ball. Any ball of standard measurements and weights is eligible, but must be approved by the referee.
- 3.—The officials of each game must be approved by the physical section committee.
- 4.—All games must be played at the Duluth Y. M. C. A. unless otherwise ordered by the physical section committee.
- 5.—Players must be members of good standing in the clubs they represent, and cannot play with any other team for the trophy during one playing season, which shall be from Dec. 1 to March 31. Their eligibility to play must satisfy the physical section committee.
- 6.—All challenges must be made to physical section committee of the Duluth Y. M. C. A., care of A. B. Wegner.
- 7.—Challenging teams must submit line-up of team with the challenger.
- 8.—The standing of the challenging teams must be of sufficient quality to satisfy the physical section committee that they are worthy to compete for the trophy.
- 9.—Trophy holders must play challenging team within two weeks of receipt of challenge.
- 10.—All challenging teams must pay for their own expenses, incident to each game.
- 11.—The trophy is the permanent property of the physical section committee and will be loaned only to winning teams upon deposit all the amount of the trophy.
- 12.—The trophy will be given a permanent home at the Y. M. C. A. building. The physical section committee will be glad to receive challenges from teams.

GREAT ANNUAL Ski Tournament

All the best riders. Big prizes. Long jumps. Don't miss it.

ADULTS 50c. CHILDREN 10c. DULUTH SKI CLUB.

There are vague predictions that the conference is shaky and may not last long unless it abandons false goals. Of course, Illinois would hardly withdraw, but loyalty to the cause is not as flaming as in the past.

DELEGATES ARE BACK FROM MEET

John Jenswold, Jr., Dr. Hoyds, George Jensen, Martin Smith, S. Wright, H. H. Borgen, all of Duluth, and Dr. J. C. Mason of Superior, who attended the national ski tournament at Chicago and also represented the Duluth and Superior ski clubs at the national meeting, returned yesterday afternoon from Chicago. The members of the Duluth party were in good spirits as a result of obtaining the next national tournament for this city.

Members of the Duluth delegation stated that the threatened trouble between the ski riders and the various members of the national association of ski clubs, had been smoothed over and that the very best professional riders in the United States would ride at the big meet to be held in this city next Sunday.

The project to make Duluth the national center of winter sports is receiving considerable attention and will be taken up with definite aim during the coming months.

STRONG FOR CUBS.

Joe O'Brien Believes Chance's Team Will Finish High.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—That the Cubs are far from being through as contenders for the championship is the belief of Joe O'Brien, the secretary of the New York Giants. O'Brien has made the following statement concerning the prospects of Chance's men: "I believe the Cubs will be just as formidable this year as when they were champions. I watched them closely last year and saw signs of a return to their best form for 1912. In the closing days of the 1911 campaign Johnny Evers showed that he never was better, and with Evers at his best, any team on which he plays will be a hard club to beat."

OUTLAW LEAGUE OFFICIALS SAY PLANS ARE COMPLETE.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—President John T. Powers of the proposed Columbia outlaw baseball league, announced today that all details have been concluded for the representation of Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Louisville, St. Louis and Kansas City in the new league. He says applications by Milwaukee, Indianapolis and Cincinnati are under consideration. Powers leaves tonight for Indianapolis. He announced a general meeting of the league will be called within two weeks.

Brown "Stalls" in Fight.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—Frank Klaus of East Pittsburg and George Brown of Chicago, middleweights, fought six rounds here last night. Klaus had the best of the bout from the beginning to the end, but was unable to score a knockout. During the last half of the fight knockout Brown fought but little, apparently "stalling" to stay in the fight.

Rents Hippodrome Park.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 30.—John J. Ryan, owner of the Cincinnati franchise of the new United States Baseball league, said yesterday he had rented the Hippodrome ball park for ten years. Ryan talked with Hiram Field, former third baseman of the Chicago and Cincinnati clubs, who was rumored to be engaged to manage the new club.

Marty O'Toole Signs Up.

South Framingham, Mass., Jan. 30.—Marty O'Toole, the $27,000 pitcher, yesterday signed his contract with the Boston Red Sox. O'Toole is the son of the late pitcher, but said it was satisfactory.

Carroll Knocked Out.

New York, Jan. 30.—Eddie O'Keefe of Philadelphia knocked out Jimmy Carroll of San Francisco in the sixth round of a ten-round bout here last night. Carroll was disconnected from the list of the best.

Kirk Gets Decision.

St. Louis, Jan. 30.—Ollie Kirk of St. Louis, recently deposed amateur, gained the popular decision in eight rounds over Tommy Dixon of Kansas City in a fast bout before members of the St. Louis Athletic club here last night. This was Kirk's first professional bout and the first of eight rounds.

Clabby Beats Howard.

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 30.—Jimmy Clabby, the American pugilist, and Australian middleweight champion, defeated Jack Howard, a middleweight boxer of New South Wales in the seventh round. The contest was a decided rout.

To Hold League Meeting.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—President Tarnsey of the league announced last night that the financial difficulties of the Danville club probably would be settled today. In that event, Tarnsey said, the scheduled meeting would be held here Friday. Two schedules are calling for three trips of the circuit, and the other for four have been drafted. It is probable the league representatives will adopt the four-trip schedule, according to Tarnsey.

White vs Rivers.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Jack White has signed articles to box Joe Rivers twenty rounds before a Los Angeles club on the afternoon of March 11, according to Freddie Gilmore, manager of the Chicago featherweight. They agreed to weigh 125 pounds at 10 o'clock on the day of the contest.

JARVINEN MAY WRESTLE LEHTO

Report Says Finnish Amateur Champion Is Coming to America.

A report that will be of considerable interest to the wrestling fans of this part of the country, and especially to the hundreds of Finnish people who take a deep interest in the doings of the mat men, is that Jarvinen, the former amateur champion wrestler of Finland, an athlete who has represented his country several times in the international sports, is coming to this country and will issue a challenge to Karl Lehto.

Reports from Finland state that Jarvinen is the greatest wrestler that Finland has produced. He stands over six feet and weighs about 215 pounds. Jarvinen has won about all the amateur honors that the European wrestling field can give and now is said to be after the much disputed title of the Finnish championship.

That Jarvinen is one of the greatest athletes that Finland has produced is vouched for by the New York press, which in a write up of the great athletes of Finland, mentioned his name with Kuhlman and Kuhlmeinen.

Nicklander and Kuhlmeinen are two of the greatest athletes that Finland has ever produced. The former is a weight thrower and is said to be the world's champion at the event. He has a record of 146 feet with the discus and a record of over forty-six feet with the sixteen-pound shot. Nicklander is expected to represent Finland in the Olympic games.

Kuhlmeinen is a distance runner who has the five-mile English amateur record. He is said to have run the five miles in 25 minutes and 3 seconds and is also expected to represent Finland in the great international games.

Jarvinen is classed with these two great athletes and is said to be really a great wrestler. In the international amateur field it is said that Jarvinen has no competition whatever. The sure that he can take the measure of Lehto and is coming to this country, according to the word from Finland, to seek a match with the present holder of the Finnish title.

GEORGE HUFF IS NOT WORRIED

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 30.—Inasmuch as the conference expression against university officials taking employment from professional baseball clubs is not mandatory, general belief at Illinois is that Director Huff will not be disturbed.

Mr. Huff is to assume his new duties as scout for the Cleveland American league club in June. His relations with the university are just as much as they were just as much. There will likely be no inclination here to insist upon decision by the board that he would cast his lot with Cleveland.

The great plea of Director Huff for new rules for summer baseball is that the conditions as they were, made him and his associates out of young men. The case arises out of a price fixer with the club's concession will be watched eagerly. In a year or so there should be something to work on.

Hotel Holland Orders 3,800 Yards of Floor Covering for Rooms in Its New Addition—Contract Also Let for Beds, Dressers and Other Furnishings—Duluth Firm Furnishes All Supplies—One of Northwest's Leading Hostleries.

The work of furnishing the rooms of the four floors which were recently added to the Holland hotel is going ahead rapidly and will be completed within a comparatively short time.

When the rooms are thrown open for occupancy they will be among the finest in the Northwest. No expense is being spared to make them most comfortable and luxurious. All the conveniences which are made for the ease and pleasure of the guest are being installed, while the several color schemes will please the most fastidious.

The contract for equipping the four floors has been awarded by the Messrs. Goldberg to the F. S. Kelly Furniture company, recognized expert specialists in high-grade furnishing.

This firm is a pioneer in the hotel equipment line and through years of experience and the employment of the most capable men in the business, has established a reputation which places it in the very front rank. An idea of the magnitude of the contract may be gained when it is stated that 3,800 yards of carpet of the best quality will be laid on the floors after four tons of carpet lining have been put down. Eight hundred yards of drapery material will be necessary, to say nothing of the beds, box springs, mattresses, comforters, dressers, etc., that will be needed. The sample rooms will be models of their kind, being large, commodious and exceptionally well lighted.

When the addition is ready for occupancy the Holland hotel will be a credit to Duluth and one of its best advertising assets.

60 PER CENT OF FIRE LOSS DUE TO CARELESSNESS

Secretary of National Association Says Fire Hazard Is Growing.

Association Is Conducting a National Campaign of Education.

If anyone were told that 60 per cent of the fire losses of the United States were due to carelessness and inadequate fire protection, he would be inclined to doubt the statement. Franklin H. Wentworth of Boston, secretary of the National Fire Protection association, made this statement today and says the association's exhaustive investigations bear out this assertion.

The National Fire Protection association was organized sixteen years ago by a few men who came to an understanding and appreciation of the terrible and criminal waste through fire destruction. Today the association has a membership of 3,000 and is working in practically every part of the country for prevention of fire loss.

"This is the highest hazard age in the history of the country," said Mr. Wentworth. "We can estimate that 60 per cent of the loss by fire is due to conditions that could have been avoided. With the hazards constantly increasing it can be readily seen what a grave and growing problem this fire prevention problem is."

"The fire hose of this country, to give one glaring example, is rotten. The companies manufacturing these are not making decent material. The companies are making hose cheaper than good hose can possibly be manufactured for, and as a result firemen lose their lives and the fire waste is greater than it should be."

"The best rubber idea is being used for the inside of automobile tires. The best rubber apparently cannot be spared for fire hose. Lives and the safety of large public buildings, depending upon the fire hose, and yet, speaking of a national campaign, I will say that the fire hose manufactured today is of poor and cheap grade, and rather than make it better the companies take the chance of replacing an unusually rotten piece of hose with a guarantee has expired."

Speaking regarding local conditions, Mr. Wentworth pointed out that the fire loss in Duluth last year was $141,384.22. Mr. Wentworth's theory about needless fire loss is correct. Duluth suffered an unnecessary loss of $264,830.89 in 1911.

Furthermore, Mr. Wentworth added that Duluth's building code was not rigid enough. "You should have a restriction upon the height of your buildings," he said. "Sprinkling apparatus in the buildings would render a fire loss much less liable."

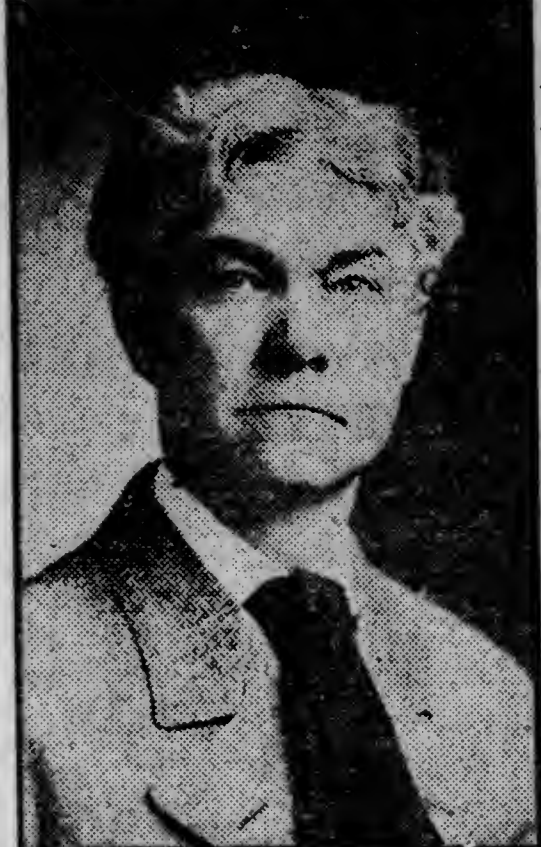

We are working through a thousand different channels," he said, in speaking of the methods pursued by the national association in combating carelessness and lack of adequate fire protection. "We have some lumbermen allied with us, but not many. You might naturally think that lumbermen would be among the first to assist us and work hand in hand with us, but such is not the case. We are working through the selling of forests, the care of camp fires, the utmost caution when driving an automobile through forest or prairie, and caution in burning brush."

"We are working through individual members, through the schools, through city officials, through every conceivable source, and we are making a great effort to educate the public. This is a fight for education. With this age of gasoline, of storage of highly combustible articles, the greatest care should be adopted to combat the great fire hazard on every hand."

"Our campaign of education is having its good effects and we are noticing here and there the adoption of methods that tend greatly to reduce the liability of fire loss. The work of the association is broadening and is generally getting to the notice of the people of the country."

Charles E. Meek, former secretary and treasurer of the National Association of Credit Men, is accompanying Mr. Wentworth on a trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. He is interested in the work of the National Fire Protection association for the reason that it meant eventually greater protection to the insurance companies to the small creditor, and also meant more extended credit to the small storekeeper.

"We have been trying for a long time to get the insurance companies to be more rigid in their demands on the small creditor," said Mr. Meek. "The National Fire Protection association is doing a service to the small creditor and the large business house."

FRANKLIN H. WENTWORTH, Secretary of National Fire Protection Association.

J. H. TREGOE, Secretary-Treasurer of the National Association of Credit Men.

and we, as a national association, are most interested in its work. J. H. Tregoe, secretary and treasurer of the credit association, and E. B. Sullivan, one of the directors of the association, are also in the city. All of the visitors will speak at the meeting of the Duluth credit men at the Commercial club.

RAILROADS NEW ERA FOR SOUTH SHORE

New Diners and Observation Cars Ordered By Duluth Road.

High-Powered Locomotives—Land Department Is Being Organized.

It is officially announced by W. W. Walker, vice president and general manager of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway company, that it is the intention to improve very materially the passenger equipment used by this railroad, and tending toward this end, orders have been placed with car builders for two very modern observation cars and two new dining cars.

This equipment will be of the very best, and it is expected that the cars will be in service about June 1. The dining cars will be put on the night trains, one at the Duluth end and one at the Sault Ste. Marie end. The observation cars will be operated between Calumet and St. Ignace, Mich., on trains Nos. 1 and 2.

It is also the intention of the company to replace with modern high powered locomotives, some of the present power used in hauling these passenger trains.

It is the intention of the management to gradually bring about an improved condition as to time and service on all of its trains. This is something, however, that can be accomplished only after some considerable time.

A department will be organized at once with the idea of carrying on an intelligent campaign to assist in the colonization of lands in upper Michigan and Wisconsin.

Heavier rails will replace the old and lighter ones during the coming summer. A great deal of work in improving the roadbed in the western division is also being planned. Wooden bridges will give way to steel, it is said. Details of all of these improvements are now being worked out at the general offices of the company.

WABASH CAN SPEND MONEY.

Court Authorizes Outlay for Rehabilitation of Property.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 31.—Federal Judge Elmer B. Adams has signed an order which will permit the receivers of the Wabash Railroad company to borrow and disburse between $3,000,000 and $10,000,000 to rehabilitate the property. With the $1,000,000 in the treasury, the receivers will expend a total of about $11,000,000.

Judge on presentation by attorneys for the road, the receivers and the Equitable Trust company.

The Westinghouse Air Brake company receivership suit was consolidated with the foreclosure suit of the first refunding and extensions mortgage, which was filed Monday. The Wabash filed an admission of insolvency and Chester H. Crum of St. Louis was appointed a special master. It was ordered that the New York office of the financial end of the road, and the authorization of the purchase of twenty-five additional locomotives was granted. In addition to these locomotives, Judge Adams signed an order which will permit the expenditure of $325,000 for new equipment, $2,535,000 for second track work and $1,010,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

NEW CLASH IN CHICAGO FREIGHT RATE HEARING.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Further clashes between the Interstate Commerce commission and the state railroad commissioners and shippers who are protesting an increase in Western freight rates, effective Feb. 15, resumed here yesterday by the examiner. As a result two petitions that the shippers be heard by the whole commission will be forwarded to Washington. C. B. Bee of the Oklahoma commission, arguing before Examiner Brown, said he understood that railroad must prove advances necessary before they might put them into effect. "Get that idea out of your head," retorted the examiner. "The shippers must show their reasons for objecting to the new schedule."

NEW STATION.

South Shore Railroad Will Build at Marquette in the Spring.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—As early in the spring as the weather will permit the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad company will begin work on a modern freight station here, to be built immediately west of the Third street crossing, as the location now known as the "team track."

Plans and specifications for the new station were completed Monday, and official announcement of the decision to build was made at the Duluth. The building will be of solid brick construction, with concrete floors. On the track side will be a platform 50 feet wide. The building will be of practically fireproof construction, and effort or expense will be spared to make it in every respect a modern freight station.

IS SIGNED BY STEENERSON

Fred Dennis Identifies Writing on Application for Land.

White Man's Adoption By Indians Doubled By White Cloud.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Dennis, formerly secretary to Congressman Halvor Steenerson of Minnesota, today identified the signature of Mr. Steenerson on an application for lands on the White Earth reservation. Mr. Dennis, who was a witness in the congressional investigation here of the charges of fraud in the case of Indian land sales, witnessed the application.

Just previous to the identification of the signature, White Cloud, chief of the Mississippi band of Chippewas, on the reservation had desired to adopt Mr. Steenerson into the tribe, which had been done, according to Gus Beaulieu, a leader of the mixed bloods.

In answer to a question as to whether Steenerson had been adopted, White Cloud said: "I heard people say so, but I did not see the ceremony. The fullbloods all were opposed to it. The fullbloods said, 'On the reservation to give 150 acres to a rich man, and I said the same thing.'"

Mr. Steenerson's application is said to have been rejected by the secretary of the interior, Charles White Cloud, who also is an Episcopal minister, accused Gus Beaulieu of others with getting the "ignorant Indians" to vote as they wanted on reservation matters.

THREE ARRESTS IN MILL STRIKE

Editor, Grovannitti and One Boy Held By the Police.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 31.—The arrest of Joseph J. Editor, leader of the strikers, and his principal assistant, Arthur Grovannitti, editor of a New York Socialist paper, during the night on a charge of being accessories in the murder of Anna Lepizzo, an Italian woman shot Monday night, apparently had little effect in the strike situation early today. Up to 8 a. m. no trouble of any kind was reported and the whole city was guarded by militiamen.

Angelo Rocco, a high school student, who is alleged to have delivered inflammatory speeches, was arrested today charged with rioting.

Col. Sweeter, in command of the military forces, announced today that he would not allow the strikers to parade in connection with the funeral of Anna Lepizzo. Yesterday, at the request of the strikers, the city gave permission to parade, but since the arrest of two of the principal leaders in the strike he decided that the best policy would be not to allow any great body of strikers to congregate, as serious trouble might result.

John Mullen, a Haverhill labor man, conferred with Editor in the latter's cell in the police station for half an hour early today, and afterwards stated that the strike leader desired the strikers to make no demonstration because of his arrest, and wished them not to attempt a parade at the funeral of Anna Lepizzo.

Both Editor and Grovannitti pleaded not guilty to charges of being accessories to murder when given hearings in the police court today.

SLUMP IN STEEL EARNINGS SHOWN

Quarterly Report of Big Corporation Made to the Directors.

New York, Jan. 31.—Earnings of the United States Steel corporation for the fourth quarter of 1911 were $23,105,115, with net earnings of $19,978,521. These figures, which are subject to slight changes upon completion of the audit for the year, barely cover the amount applicable to the present rates of 7 and 6 per cent per annum, respectively. The usual quarterly dividends at these rates were declared by the directors.

Earnings for the year aggregated $104,255,563, with net earnings of $84,536,335. These figures compare with $121,144,000 and $116,895,134, respectively, in 1910, and are the lowest returns since 1908, the year following the financial and general depression.

After payment of the preference and common dividends, the surplus net income of the final quarter of the year was reduced to $20,638, as against $408,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1910. At the end of the latter year, the corporation carried forward a balance surplus of $10,928,715. At the end of 1911 the total surplus was reduced to $4,766,647.

It is noteworthy that throughout 1911 the steel corporation made no appropriation from surplus for expenditures of any kind, whereas in 1910 the sum of $25,000,000 was appropriated for various expenditures, including additional properties, new plants and construction, and $1,000,000 to cover advanced mining royalties.

Yesterday's meeting of the directors was of unusual duration, but no statement other than that of earnings was given by any of the corporation's officials.

DULUTH BOAT IS ICE-BOUND

The steamer Crescent of Duluth is ice-bound near Two Harbors. So fast in the ice is the little craft that it will have to remain in its present condition until released by spring thaws.

In the spring it will depend largely on the weather conditions as to whether it will be crushed to pieces in the ice or will be released with but little damage.

The boat is the property of Stone-Ordon-Wells company of this city. It was on the last trip of the season and was trying to make Two Harbors with forty tons of herring aboard.

The ice is heavy and the distance to the boat is too great to think of attempting to break it up with tugs and relays.

William Jones of Duluth is captain of the boat, and it carries a crew of three men. The members of the crew have refused to leave the boat, up to the present time.

The Crescent is about 100 feet in length with a beam of sixteen feet. It has had many other experiences in the ice, but being well built, has in each case come through undamaged.

If the weather is calm at the time of the breakup, it is thought that the boat will be released with no great damage.

Advance Display of Spring 1912 Wash Fabrics

—This annual exhibition of the fashionable cotton textiles has been carefully planned on a most extensive scale. It is the first complete and authentic showing of fine Spring wash fabrics—ready tomorrow.

—Months ago we went through the sample lines of foremost American mills carefully choosing the best patterns and rejecting undesirable ones. Then the lines of foreign mills were submitted, examined and every new and good thing chosen for this exposition.

—Arranged for convenient examination are extensive lines of dainty, shimmering, silky fabrics; sheer, soft, filmy materials fit for a princess; practical cotton textiles for every day wear; all resplendent in color and design. The delicate tints of balmy skies, the blush of blossoms, the verdure of field and trees, the deep blue of the ocean afford delightful suggestions for the exquisite designs so well executed as to resemble the intricate traceries from the wands of fairy hands. Nature in her gayer moods is eloquently depicted in the exhibition of spring fabrics. The flowers of early and midsummer have been coaxed into early bloom by wizards of the cotton industry.

—A partial listing of the many attractive fabrics will include—

Dainty Egyptian Tissues
Renfrew silk novelties
Fine French Ginghams, 300 patterns
27 and 32-in. Zephyr Ginghams
Imported Silk Zephyrs
Silk Striped Voiles
Silver Voiles
Silkusettes
Eoilenettes de Luxe
Baronet Silks
English Silk Jacquards
Ramony Printed Silks
Princess Silk Foulards
Egg Shell Voiles
Aherfoyle Silk Fabrics

—Besides scores of new percales, chevrons, madrases, galateas, chambrays, crepes and inexpensive cotton wash fabrics in delightful new colorings and patterns.

Spring Lingerie Waists 1.19

Usual $1.25 to $2 Values

—This waist sale which began Monday has been re-enforced by another shipment that has just come to hand.

—Certainly this is an advantageous waist-buying opportunity. These dainty crisp new styles have the very breath of Spring in their excellent designing and attractive trimming.

—With 12 new styles to select from the sales have been unusual. The different styles are made from sheer white lawn or soft lingerie cloths; some have three-quarter and some full length sleeves and trimmed with pretty Val. or Irish lace insertions, or with dainty colored embroideries.

Call on Americans

Nanking, Jan. 31.—Vang Chung Wei, the foreign minister, and Chiu Chien Tao, the finance minister in China, called today on Rear Admiral Joseph H. Murdock, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, on board the special service ship Rainbow. Admiral Murdock probably will return the call.

No reports have been received here of serious fighting between the imperialists and Republican forces. It is asserted in authoritative quarters that information has been received that the throne has been received by the Chinese emperor. Premier Yuan Shi Kai is now said to be merely waiting until the Chinese troops in Peking have been sufficiently strengthened to insure their absolute control of the Manchurian troops in the garrison.

BURNS TESTIFIES IN LORIMER INQUIRY AND CLASHES WITH HANEY

McGowan's father about the subject, referring to his son as having "perjured himself."

"I was not," Burns objected and called me a liar," said Burns.

Senator Dillingham wanted to know why he thought the committee needed help in getting McGowan to appear.

Republican Senator Dillingham, however, was not to be deterred by the committee because nothing had been accomplished? Inquired Senator Dillingham.

Burns said he supposed his services had been discontinued because of lack of funds.

Clashed With Hanev.

Fire flew when Attorney Hanev for Lorimer began cross-examination.

"I think my reputation is generally with you and is even better; I'll hand you that every time," shouted Burns in reply to one of Mr. Hanev's remarks.

"A moment later Burns complained a question was involved."

"It may be to some minds," said Hanev.

"Now, on keep on—" Burns began to warn the attorney as he leaned forward.

"This has got to stop," shouted Chairman Dillingham.

"If the committee will direct the witness to answer—" began Judge Hanev.

"We have. The committee will take care of itself," Burns began to say.

Burns denied he was employed to work on the case generally, but as he understood "only on the McGowan feature and to locate witnesses."

McGowan's father about the subject, referring to his son as having "perjured himself."

"I was not," Burns objected and called me a liar," said Burns.

Senator Dillingham wanted to know why he thought the committee needed help in getting McGowan to appear.

Republican Senator Dillingham, however, was not to be deterred by the committee because nothing had been accomplished? Inquired Senator Dillingham.

Burns said he supposed his services had been discontinued because of lack of funds.

Clashed With Hanev.

Fire flew when Attorney Hanev for Lorimer began cross-examination.

"I think my reputation is generally with you and is even better; I'll hand you that every time," shouted Burns in reply to one of Mr. Hanev's remarks.

"A moment later Burns complained a question was involved."

"It may be to some minds," said Hanev.

"Now, on keep on—" Burns began to warn the attorney as he leaned forward.

"This has got to stop," shouted Chairman Dillingham.

"If the committee will direct the witness to answer—" began Judge Hanev.

"We have. The committee will take care of itself," Burns began to say.

Burns denied he was employed to work on the case generally, but as he understood "only on the McGowan feature and to locate witnesses."

Witness in Sneed Trial Is Very Ill

Mysterious Sickness Strikes Man on Whom State Depends.

Fort Worth, Tex., Jan. 31.—There had been no improvement this morning in the condition of Edward Throckmorton, principal witness in the case of John R. Sneed, accused as the slayer of Capt. A. G. Boyce, Throckmorton was stricken suddenly last night. It is believed he cannot live.

The mystery of Throckmorton's illness had not been cleared away during the night. Many sensational stories to account for his condition are being told. One of the most widely circulated is that for several days he has been in the company of two men supposed to be private detectives unknown in Fort Worth.

It was announced that attorneys for Sneed had asked for delay on the ground that defense witnesses are absent. Whether Throckmorton's mysterious illness will result in delay of the trial has not been developed.

Throckmorton sat talking to Capt.

CATTLE SUFFER FROM EPIDEMIC

Veterinarian Says It Is a Form of Spinal Meningitis.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 31.—An epidemic contemporary with and similar to the spinal meningitis in humans, has caused great agitation in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas during the last three months, has attacked the cattle of the Southwest, according to Dr. J. C. Hays, of Lawrence, Mo., who addressed the annual convention of the Missouri Valley Veterinary association here today.

The mysterious malady is known to the stock raisers as the "cornsick disease," but according to veterinarians is none other than a bovine cerebro-spinal meningitis.

Eating of improper food, especially the smut upon corn, is the chief cause of the disease, according to the speaker.

It was said at Mr. Hawley's office that he had not been at work for two weeks. His subordinates did not care to predict when he would be at his desk again.

Woman Who Was Hitched to Harrow Wants to Leave Husband.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 31.—Hearing of the divorce suit brought by May E. Choat against Lafayette Choat, who was sent to jail on a charge of felonious assault because he drove his wife about the fields hitched to a harrow, began in the Jackson county court at Independence today. Choat is contesting the suit, in which his wife alleges extreme cruelty.

The case of Choat, a middle-aged farmer, first came to the attention of the county when Mrs. Choat with her two small children appeared in the juvenile court here. She told of being tied to a harrow because her husband was jealous of her, and of being beaten because she could not keep pace with the horses. Choat was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

FIRE PREVENTION

To Be Discussed at Meeting at Brainerd Feb. 10.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.) A convention for the purpose of discussing fire prevention as it applies to a railway right-of-way and other railway property, the proper method of fighting fires generated along tracks and other matters of interest attended by Chief Forester W. T. Cox of St. Paul, his assistant, Mr. Tierney, the state forest ranger, and prominent officials of the Soo line, Canadian Northern, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Minnesota & International and Cuyuna & Northern railways will be held here Saturday, Feb. 10.

The Commercial club has offered its rooms for the convention. The meeting will be of decided interest as means of fire prevention will be discussed and the best plans will be adopted. Among the forest rangers expected are: J. P. Saunders of Brainerd; Walter Eisenbach, Altkin, Percy Clouet, H. C. Nelson, Grand Rapids, M. J. Thornton, Deer River; A. C. Fay, Park Rapids; Percy Doerds, Thief River Falls; E. A. Linden, Warroad; William Kilby, Bemidji; H. W. Winslow, Northome; Gus Peterson, International Falls; Fred Benson, Orr; E. E. Campbell, Tower; Hans Kasper, Grand Marais; L. F. Johnson, Bemidji.

CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED

Both Parties Predict Election of Their Candidates for Mayor.

Socialists Claim They Will Poll 2,000 Votes for Johnson.

At campaign headquarters of Mayor Cullum and Dr. McCull, confidence is being expressed. As the time for the election approaches, the interest is becoming greater and the campaign is assuming an intensity that insures a big vote Tuesday. The heavy registration is taken by both parties to be a good omen. All party workers were interested in getting the voters out to register and more effective work in that direction was done this year than for some years past. The first ward registration was something of a surprise and is indicative of the interest being taken in the election in that part of the city. The Socialists are also making claims. They count on polling between 2,000 and 2,500 votes for their candidate for mayor and are claiming the election of two aldermen. They are making a strong campaign and unbiased political observers believe that their claims on the vote for mayor are not greatly exaggerated. The effect of Henry Truelsen's campaign on the bonds will be felt in the election for city officers. He indicated in his speech at Hazelwood park last night that he was claiming the election and he also attacked the candidates for aldermen who are being opposed by the municipal ownership committee. Mr. Truelsen announced when he was elected to keep out of the political fight, but it is evident that he will make frequent reference to it in his speeches. There will be meetings of all parties every night this week. Ward meetings are being held and the precinct captains are getting their workers together for final instructions. All these have strong organizations and they are determined to bring the vote as nearly up to the registration as possible.

The Third Ward Improvement club will hold a meeting this evening at its rooms, 102-104 West Michigan St., and will speak in opposition to the bonds.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The United Shoe Machinery company was denounced as an illegal conspiracy before the senate interstate commerce committee today by Charles E. Jones, shoe manufacturer of Boston. Spink, has arrived to accept the position of foreman of the jail and will be accompanied by his family.

Money Must Be Spent Only for Building Lighting Plant if Bond Issue Passes.

If the city should vote to issue bonds for $700,000 for a municipal electric lighting plant, that $700,000 must be spent for the construction of a competing plant.

The city cannot spend one cent of that $700,000 for the purchase of the plant of the Duluth-Edison Electric Company. The enabling act specifically states that bonds shall be issued in the amount of $700,000 for the construction of a lighting plant and not for the purchase of one.

Don't be misled by statements of municipal ownership advocates whose enthusiasm destroys their good judgment. If the bond issue is voted the money can be spent only for the building of a plant.

And what kind of a plant can be built for $700,000? The engineers employed by the city say that for that amount one could be built which would have only one-third the capacity of the present plant of the Duluth-Edison Electric Company.

BEST MILK IN THE STATE

Duluth's Dairies Found Far Above Average By State Inspector.

Visit Not Expected, But Only One Sample Below Grade Found.

The visit of Thomas Manley, a deputy inspector of the state dairy and food department, to this city is establishing more firmly than ever Duluth's reputation as having the best dairies in Minnesota.

Inspector Manley has been in Duluth the last week, and has been making a thorough investigation of the milk which is furnished the Duluth public, and is examining the dairies as well as the samples of milk which he has taken from the milk wagons as they were being delivered. He found that one was found to be below test, and that showed a percentage of 84, whereas the state requirement is 85 per cent. This is a remarkably good showing, particularly in view of the fact that the dairymen had no intimation whatever of the coming of the state deputy.

FOR GREATER CROOKSTON.

Commercial Club Elects Officers and Decides to Boost.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the annual meeting of the Crookston Commercial club last night Sam Rosenthal was elected president; Charles Loring and Edward Peterson, vice president and secretary, and G. S. Chesterman, treasurer. E. J. Lander of Grand Forks gave the main address following a banquet at which 115 members were seated and a dozen members made short addresses. A vigorous campaign for the ensuing year is planned with a less exclusive policy to be pursued.

NEW FRENCH UNIFORM. All through the summer the troops of most regiments in and near Paris were dressed in "mignonne green," but the ministry of war has now repudiated this as a general color and decided to entrust two great artists with the task of preserving in French uniforms the national and artistic characteristics. A Hitherto what was sought was "a color that will harmonize with various shades of the sky and the sea, and which is not too bright, but which is recognized to be a color of the French army has successfully gone through shades of blue, gray, blue-gray, gray-green and gray-mignonne, and now it is going to try what is styled "devil's skin."

NEWS OF THE NORTH WEST

HOLDS LAW NOT SOUND

Judge Templeton Rules Against New North Dakota Abstract Act.

Provision Requiring Duplicate Abstracts Unreasonable, Says Judge.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Templeton holds that the new abstract law does not have the protection of the public in view, and in his decision involving the constitutionality of the measure, he says it is not sound.

Regulations Are Unreasonable. "The regulations in the chapter relating to the business of making abstracts are unreasonable," says Judge Templeton. "They in no way protect the public or tend to make abstractors more efficient. The abstractor can do his work just as expeditiously, if not more so, by referring to the public records in the various public offices as he can by compiling abstracts and copies of records in his office."

As Gilmore reached the last coach, he was confronted by the Pittsburgh man, who asked his name, wrote it in his note book and asked a few questions as to how the conductor had gotten into the habit of thanking passengers for establishing a new standard of politeness.

MINERS BACK TO WORK

Difficulty in Mohawk Mine Has Been Adjusted.

Hancock, Mich., Jan. 31.—A strike of 300 miners employed by the Mohawk Copper Mining company, which started Monday, was settled last night. William Smith, manager of the mine, and representatives of the miners agreed to a compromise.

The strike was due to a new company rule, charging breakage of tools and drilling machines against the wages of employees. The men refused to go to work under this rule and remained the Monday and Tuesday.

The night shift men, however, went to work last night when an announcement was made of the settlement. Both sides are said to have made concessions, but neither would explain the exact terms of settlement.

Mrs. Ludford, who was present, told the court that her brother in England would take care of the family if deported.

Judge Backus promised to see the United States district attorney and it is probable the family will be deported.

This decision was made in the case of the L. Kowalski against the plaintiff, but there still are several other cases pending, the total amount involved being about $6,000.

Elliott was engaged in the elevator business on his own account. Elliott, however, used the company's storage tickets, having been employed by the firm to sell to the time that he disappeared and left the farmers in the lurch. There will be an appeal to the supreme court.

Wells, in jail here charged with the theft of $5,000 worth of jewelry from the firm of White & McNaughton, was turned over to Frank D. Larrabee, former attorney for the firm, who refused to say whether he had retained Larrabee as counsel.

Mr. Larrabee and C. D. White of White & McNaughton, went to the office of County Attorney Hennepin recently, and asked if the charge against Wells, who is said by the police to be "Kid" Householder, as a diamond thief, would be dismissed if the diamonds were returned.

Robertson declared that this could not be done.

The trace of the man who was with Wells and who escaped with the diamonds has been found.

These booklets describe the soil, climate and agriculture, quote letters from men who have gone West and become independent. They are profusely illustrated with actual photographs and contain detail maps in color. They tell what others have accomplished and show what you can do.

It's the national favorite—never was a food so popular before. Last year the country ate more KELLLOGG'S than all the other brands together, and there's hardly a home that doesn't serve KELLLOGG'S regularly. The tempting filmy flakes have made a hit with the nation's appetite.

TAFT SURE OF VICTORY

Predicts That Republicans Will Win in November Election.

President Makes Speech on Politics at Columbus, Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 31.—Reviewing the achievements of his administration before the Columbus Glee club here last night, President Taft drew the line sharply between the old line Republicans and the progressives of his party, and practically declared that the time was at hand when the "denunciation" of the "progressives" must cease and when the nation will demand facts. He had not the slightest doubt, he said, that the Republican party would win out in the November elections.

From his optimistic look into the future, the president turned to the past and the present, and his voice husky as it was, rose to a high pitch. He spoke of the Democratic victory at the polls in 1910 and declared that this was not the fault of the Republican party, but of disaffection within its ranks.

"Who are the persons who are going up and down the land distributing these views? Whose lungs have been used for years in condemnation and denunciation? Have they all been shooting at the old Republican party and the old administration?"

"Let our feelings."

"Now I think we are getting to the point when we are to get our innings. We'll deal, not in promises, and not in unfounded denunciations, but with facts. Let us get down to facts, and then if they beat us on the truth we'll take our beating. But let us have a square hearing and a square dealing."

He said it made him impatient to hear people talking about the way his administration had enforced the antitrust law.

"We got some lawyers who understand that enforcement of the law means its enforcement in the courts and not in the newspapers, and we enforced it. I don't claim any particular credit for its enforcement. Now we're met with the proposition that we've lost it."

"I don't think we have. I think we have a square hearing and a square dealing."

COUNTY CLUB ELECTION

J. H. Hearing Again Chosen President in Spite of His Protest.

Members Hear Talks on Roads and Consolidated Schools.

The St. Louis County club, organized for the promotion of the industrial interests of the county, held its winter meeting and banquet last evening at the Commercial club.

Officers were elected for the ensuing term as follows: President, J. H. Hearing, who has already held the office for several terms and was re-elected over his protest; vice president, A. F. Stillman; Hibbing, J. L. Murphy of Tower and William Archer of Virginia, and secretary-treasurer, P. B. Myers of Eveleth. The club on the invitation of J. H. McInven selected Chisholm as the place for the April meeting.

E. K. Coe, county road engineer, addressed the convention on the subject of roads. He said that during the past year about 100 miles of new roads had been built in the county. This, he remarked, just about kept pace with the agricultural development of the county. The rural parts of the county, he said, were gaining about 60 families a year. He said that petitioners for new roads should not rely upon the census in getting information on the number of people residing in any locality but should make their own investigations. The petitions, he remarked, should be accompanied with plat maps showing just where the roads are desired and how many people are to be benefited.

T. W. Hugo expressed the opinion that agriculture would in time be the principal occupation of the people of St. Louis county. The fur industry had flourished and thrived, but the timber was going fast; the mining would be sure to play out some time; but agriculture was an industry that would always remain.

L. B. Arnold, land commissioner of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, gave a history of the activities of the Northern Minnesota Development association. He said all farmers ought to be helped, and those who had no such clubs in their communities should organize them.

E. M. Phillips, commissioner of schools of Ramsey county, addressed the meeting on the subject of consolidated rural schools. He declared such schools had shown gratifying results, wherever they had been organized, but he was afraid this organization was proceeding a little too fast, as teachers that had the necessary training to manage such schools were not numerous. He spoke particularly of the excellent work that was being done by the one situated at Birchdale in Koochiching county, on the Rainy river. He spoke of the two in St. Louis county, one at Floodwood and the other at Meadowlands; four in Koochiching county, four in Beltrami county, one in Itasca county, one in Aitkin county, two in Miller county and several others in southern counties of the state.

"INTELLECTUAL ASS," SAYS ROBINS

"Men and Religion" Speaker Clashes With Pittsburg Socialist.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 31.—The third day's campaign of the "Men and Religion Forward movement" in this city was enlivened by a tilt between Raymond Robins of Chicago, a prominent speaker in the movement, and Rev. William A. Prosser of Pittsburg, a well-known Socialist. During a social service institute, Mr. Robins made remarks that did not meet with the approval of Rev. Mr. Prosser, who claimed they slapped unfairly at Socialism. Rev. Mr. Prosser interrupted several times and Mr. Robins used the expression "intellectual ass."

Both men clashed frequently at the various meetings, and last night Rev. Mr. Prosser addressed a letter to Mr. Robins, which in part reads:

"You said, among other things, that there were strange voices in the land proclaiming that Jesus Christ had not power to save the lost and the poor, and that there was a party in existence that had a program which was 97 per cent indolent, 3 per cent construction. That class-consciousness was false, class-struggle nothing but personal hatred, and that economic determinism was a belly philosophy that shut God and all moral motives out of consideration."

"At the close of your address I asked if the party you had reference to was the Socialist party and you acknowledged it was."

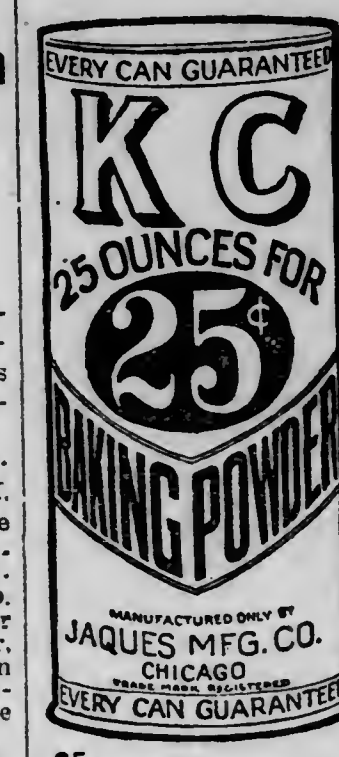

Rev. Mr. Prosser asks Mr. Robins to debate the matter with him before the eight day's campaign of the movement in Pittsburg comes to an end. It is believed Mr. Robins will do so.

EWING QUILTS HIS WORK FOR WILSON

Brother-in-Law of Col. Waterson Resigns From Campaign Place.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 31.—Robert Ewing of Middle, Tenn., member of the Woodrow Wilson state committee, has resigned from the committee, giving as his reason "the extreme personal bitterness which has lately developed between my brother-in-law, Henry Waterson, and my friend, Woodrow Wilson."

In his letter of resignation, Mr. Ewing says:

"When I accepted the place now resigned, nothing resembling what has happened was even dreamed of. I have had no word of any nature from Mr. Wilson or from Mr. Waterson in relation to the action I now take. My determination to do nothing official or personal which might in any way whatever wound Mr. Waterson, alone impels my action. At the same time I feel that it is but right that Governor Wilson should be represented in this immediate locality by one in no way embarrassed; hence this resignation."

Mr. Waterson has given his final statement as to his view of the controversy. I suppose we may look for a like statement from Governor Wilson. From these the public can judge."

Mr. Ewing has been active in Governor Wilson's behalf for some time, but soon after Mr. Waterson openly became a part of the Harvey-Wilson incident he gave out a statement upholding Mr. Waterson's contention.

Sailor Jack After Dick Shepperd---Gary After Baldwin---Finland's Athletes---Walter Miller Matched---Pedersen and Mahmoud.

(BY BRUCE.)

SAILOR JACK is at the present time in the vicinity of Pipestone, Minn., the home of Dick Shepperd, the wonderful little wrestler. The marine went down in the southern part of the state for the purpose of persuading Shepperd to come to the Head of the Lakes and wrestle him. If Jack is successful in his efforts to get Shepperd to agree to a match, the contest will be put on the boards with the big Ordemann-Pedersen meeting and will prove a feast that the fans will not forget in many a long day.

YESTERDAY this column was in receipt of a letter from Marty Forkins, the clever little manager of Tommy Gary, the Chicago Heights fighter. Forkins stated that he had just returned from the Pacific coast. He went out to the slope country with Chicago Knockout Brown. According to his letter he is going to take Gary out to Frisco, where a meeting with Matty Baldwin awaits the signature of Tommy. Both Forkins and Gary are clean and clever boys and they should get along in the fight game. They are of the new generation.

FINLAND is one of the countries that is coming to the front in athletics. From the general literature that is being sent out heralding the event of the Olympic games, one now and then finds one of the athletes of Finland mentioned. The Finnish people are certainly lovers of athletics. Like the Swedes and Norwegians they have for years shown a deep interest in some of the older sports through the medium of the Olympic games. Nicklander and Kohleminen are two of the greatest athletes of Europe and they are capable, it is generally believed, of proving point winners for Finland in the games that are to be decided this summer in Stockholm.

WALTER MILLER'S next match, that with Charles Gustafson of Minneapolis, the clever little manager of Tommy Gary, the Chicago Heights fighter. Gustafson is a good house to see the articles that assure a world's championship match with Sailor Jack, interests in his future movements have been increased. Gustafson is one tough nut customer. He has wrestled a draw with Miller and also held Otto Suter to a draw in the Western Canadian metropolis. Miller has always held that he was jobbed in the match wrestled in Minneapolis. Then, too, Gustafson has been saying some unkind things about the world's champ. The Alphonso and Gaston ceremonies promise to be excluded from the St. Paul contest.

DULUTH or Superior will not be represented at the meeting of the Minny league, or the Minny league so-called, which is called for the first of the month at Winona. It is thought that the representatives of the Southern clubs will get together and reorganize the league, securing two towns to replace the Head of the Lakes clubs. Perhaps the hope is father to the belief in this case. While nothing definite has come from anyone holding stock in the Duluth or Superior clubs, it is not believed that under any circumstances will the clubs here continue in the league.

PAT LANZER, pugilistic promoter of Hurley, is making elaborate preparations for the Brown-Reynolds fight. The Wisconsin impresario expects a good house to see the boys perform, for boxing is becoming very popular in the little Wisconsin city. Both of the boys are training hard. "Scraps" Costello joined the Reynolds' camp yesterday, while Pat is working away on his homehead. The little Hibbing lad is seeking another match with Sammie Trotter, Neil Moynihan, his manager, trying to arrange a fight for Columbus, Ohio. They say that the Hibbing battler is fighting in the best form of his career. Now is the time that Pat should start to get real good.

GIVE big Jess Pedersen credit for taking Frank Gotch at his word. The champion has repeatedly stated that he would like to get a match with him and defeat the human hurdle, Yussif Mahmoud. This is just what the big Scandinavian intends to do—or at least to try. He has defeated Rolfer, Westgaard, Sampson and some of the lesser lights, and has matches with Charley Cutler and Henry Ordemann. The contests with the two great Americans will give a true test on the ability of Pedersen. His match with Mahmoud will be the supreme test of his fitness to go against the great Gotch. Friends of Pedersen in Chicago, those who have seen the big fellow work, say he is ready at the present time to meet Gotch. But others would rather wait and see the result of the meeting with Mahmoud. Let Pedersen beat Mahmoud and the wrestling fans over the country will begin clamoring for a match with the champion—and perhaps Gotch will come forth from the cave of retirement.

WILLIE WOLGAST, a brother of Champion Ad Wolgast, is to make his debut in the ring. Let us see. Now Jim Jeffries had a brother, and Abe Attell has two brothers, and the Sullivan Twins have or has, a brother, and the late Shanny Ketchel had a brother who believed he could fight. Come to think of it Oscar Gardner also has a brother. There is something about a thorne and a rose, or a rose and a thorne. Anytime the little brother of a champion breaks in he is going against an awful handicap. Joe Corbett, the great pitcher of the old Baltimore Orioles, and a brother of famous Jim, was a bright and shining exception to the general rule.

OLD ADRIAN C. ANSON, loving old "Anse," is the latest to be bitten by the little poison fly, comebackitis. Doctors have diagnosed this wound as one of flowing hope and gulfing conceit. This disease is almost as common as the yellow fever as at Panama. Some of the prominent people who have been affected with it, are William J. Bryan, Jiggs Donohue, Harry Forbes, Governor Cummins, Kid McCoy, Eddie Hines, Senator Lorimer, Lillian Russell, the New York Baseball team, the Cherry sisters, Mike Donlin, T. R. and Jack Curley. In the dim past Enoch Arden and Rip Van Winkle were charter members of the comeback gang.

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the matching of Karl Lehto, the former Duluth wrestler, and Charles Kid Cutler, the famous heavyweight of Chicago. The match, according to the announcement from Chicago, is to be wrestled in the near future. With Lehto heavier and improved in his knowledge of the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling, which various reports would lead one to believe, he should make it very lively for the Nonpareil. Lehto always had the possibilities of a good wrestler. His year's work with some of the best men of Chicago is said to have developed him very much.

ted, it was the view of a majority of the spectators that the Wisconsin man was a winner by a wide margin. McGoorty fought entirely with his left hand after the fourth round but he used this effectively, and with straight jabs and punches interspersed now and then with a snappy hook to the jaw or body, gained the verdict in every round except the sixth and ninth.

Coffey was nearly always beaten to the punch by McGoorty and throughout the battle was bleeding from the nose and mouth.

McGoorty weighed in at 157 and Coffey at 155 pounds.

Wants to Bet on Falzer.

New York, Jan. 31.—Tom O'Rourke, manager of Al Falzer, considered by some a "white horse" announced here yesterday afternoon that he will bet Jack Johnson $5,000 that Falzer can "trip" Jim Flynn in "big time."

O'Rourke hopes this bet will stimulate a bout to eliminate Flynn and bring about a challenge to Johnson.

The proposal is in the nature of a reply to Johnson's recent offer of $25,000 a round to Falzer for every round over three that he can stand up and defeat the champion.

New York, Jan. 31.—President Lynch of the National league announced approval of the following releases:

THE WORLD'S BEST DUB

MARVIN HART.

Here he is, the biggest dub of the prize ring. He wants to come back. Where is he coming back from? He never got anywhere. Through jobbery the dirty gambling element he was given a decision over Johnson. If Johnson had cared to be could have stopped the man in front of him with several well directed punches. Because this is a four-flushing age of pugilism, at least in the heavy-weight class, this chap says he is coming back. Please ring for the nearest.

DULUTH WILL NOT SEND DELEGATE

Neither Will Superior Be Represented at the Minny League Meeting.

W. J. Sommer of Superior stated this morning that Superior would not have a representative at the Minny league meeting at Winona. Darcy O'Brien is authority for the statement that this city will not be represented. While no definite statement is forthcoming from any of those in the inside, the very fact that neither of the two towns is going to send representatives probably means that Duluth and Superior are through with the Minny league forever.

Dispatches from Winona say that every city in the league is expected to be represented at the meeting. The fact that neither of the two towns is going to send representatives probably means that Duluth and Superior are through with the Minny league forever.

White interest in the league is dead here, the hope is high that Duluth and Superior will effect their release in order that some definite and long-range plan may be made for the Minny league. Only in so far as the Minny league may affect Duluth's future efforts to get into another organization does the Winona meeting interest local fans.

JEFFERSONS WILL SEND BOWLERS TO ST. PAUL

At the monthly meeting of the Jefferson Athletic club it was decided to send a bowling team to the international tournament at St. Paul. The bowling team of the Jefferson club have made a fine record the present season, and the picked team that will be sent to St. Paul is expected to make a good showing.

That the Jefferson Athletic association, which is less than a year old, should decide to go to the expense of sending a bowling team to the big international meet is another example of the enterprise of the hustling Eastern organization.

SOME BASEBALL STARS DO REALLY COME BACK

More than one ball player, tipped for the soapy chutes in 1911, is likely to come back with a new set of designs for 1912 and furnish more than one shock, says Grantland Rice in the New York Mail.

Matty and Brown both lost ground last season; Plank and Bender have been tipped as about through; Johnny Evers lost his grip and others apparently were in the downward trend when the curfew rang for the last campaign.

Back in 1908 Eddie Plank was tipped for a sure decline—about through and ready for Jan. 13 in the canny. Six years later the left-hander gives vent to one of his greatest years and proves to be far more effective against the Giants than he was in 1905.

The dope had Nap Lajoie carded for the canny four years ago. And three years later the Frenchman "in his decline" was tipped as about through and ready for Jan. 13 in the canny. Six years later the left-hander gives vent to one of his greatest years and proves to be far more effective against the Giants than he was in 1905.

The rumor was confirmed in 1908, when Nap skidded still further to 289, and the game was getting poised to mourn the passing of a famous landmark.

And then something happened. In 1909 Lajoie started back with 329, and in 1910 fought Ty Cobb neck-and-neck race for the premiership with 384. He only hit 365 last season, but he was up around 400 when a wound crippled him for the rest of the campaign.

Matty McIntyre, the Staten Island athlete, is still another who upset the recovered dope. McIntyre hit 285 with Detroit in 1908, 244 in 1909 and 236 in 1910.

At which point Hughes Jennings attached the can and then cut McIntyre adrift. Branching out with the White Sox in 1911, he hit 323, the best average he had ever compiled under the Big Tent of the American League.

All of which, with other and similar statistics, gives the average manager about all he cares to grapple with. The best managerial judgment is shown in cutting away dead timber and keeping the team replenished with the pepper of youth. But when some of decay, look to be all through, and then suddenly rear another year's worth back to the top again, the problem of pruning at the right time and soft money and the not-combatant might figure it to be.

During the first four years of the Boston Nationals, A. G. Spalding pitched every game for that club. From 1907 until 1911 Mike Mitchell held the funk hitting high mark of .317 for his best season. It was beaten on Sept. 30, 1911, by Pitcher Walsh of the White Sox, who slammed the pill just 118 feet and one-half inch.

While some newswriters do not think so, Pitcher Smith is one of the handiest gentlemen in the box today. For instance, on July 28 Smith had an unheard-of record of three putouts and eight assists in the game against Brooklyn.

The new record for strikeouts in the American association was made by Marty O'Toole on July 5, when seven men were struck out in a large sweep in the ozone.

William Mitchell, who pitched for San Antonio in the historic game against Galveston on Aug. 21, 1909, struck out twenty men, today holds the record in the minor leagues.

This number is just one lower than the strikeout record in the world, which was made by Charles Sweeney of Providence, who struck out twenty-one men when he fanned twenty-one men in the Providence club. He holds the record for the largest number of consecutive games, which was thirty-seven. Of that number he won twenty-seven.

Second Baseman Eddie Collins of Mack's Athletics says he's received more than 100 requests to umpire indoor games in Philadelphia.

Doolin will have pretty hard trouble selecting his right fielder. He has Cravath, Brinker, and Becker, and the Silent Jawn Titus, to try out for that berth.

John M. Ward announces that Boston will open at home on April 11, immediately these are the first in the Hub city about sixteen columns of interesting reading thereon.

Fielder Jones is quoted as having said that Yarn Greason is right in sticking out for more money.

Four major league clubs will play Dayton during the exhibition season, namely: Cleveland, Brooklyn, Red Sox and Highlanders.

John M. Ward announces that Boston will open at home on April 11, immediately these are the first in the Hub city about sixteen columns of interesting reading thereon.

Fielder Jones is quoted as having said that Yarn Greason is right in sticking out for more money.

Four major league clubs will play Dayton during the exhibition season, namely: Cleveland, Brooklyn, Red Sox and Highlanders.

During the first four years of the Boston Nationals, A. G. Spalding pitched every game for that club. From 1907 until 1911 Mike Mitchell held the funk hitting high mark of .317 for his best season. It was beaten on Sept. 30, 1911, by Pitcher Walsh of the White Sox, who slammed the pill just 118 feet and one-half inch.

While some newswriters do not think so, Pitcher Smith is one of the handiest gentlemen in the box today. For instance, on July 28 Smith had an unheard-of record of three putouts and eight assists in the game against Brooklyn.

The new record for strikeouts in the American association was made by Marty O'Toole on July 5, when seven men were struck out in a large sweep in the ozone.

William Mitchell, who pitched for San Antonio in the historic game against Galveston on Aug. 21, 1909, struck out twenty men, today holds the record in the minor leagues.

This number is just one lower than the strikeout record in the world, which was made by Charles Sweeney of Providence, who struck out twenty-one men when he fanned twenty-one men in the Providence club.

He holds the record for the largest number of consecutive games, which was thirty-seven. Of that number he won twenty-seven.

Second Baseman Eddie Collins of Mack's Athletics says he's received more than 100 requests to umpire indoor games in Philadelphia.

Doolin will have pretty hard trouble selecting his right fielder. He has Cravath, Brinker, and Becker, and the Silent Jawn Titus, to try out for that berth.

On the Subject of a MUNICIPAL LIGHTING PLANT

OBITUARY
John Hiltzer, a pioneer and Civil War veteran, is dead at Waconia, Minn., aged 75. He was born in Germany in the late 50's. Then he returned to Ohio and enlisted in the Fourth Infantry of that state. He was discharged at the close of the war.

W. W. Worthington, one of the most prominent coal miners in Montana, is dead at Muscatine, Iowa. Mr. Worthington was born in Germany, and came to the United States in 1870. He was engaged in business there for many years and was well known all over the Northwest. Mr. Worthington's family resides in New York and the body will be taken there for burial.

W. H. SMALLWOOD AT DEATH'S DOOR
Capt. W. H. Smallwood, who has been seriously ill at his home, 14 Nineteenth avenue east, since last week, is reported today to be in a very critical condition. It is stated that he has been failing rapidly and that very little hope of his ultimate recovery is entertained. He is one of the oldest and best known residents of Duluth.

SUPERIOR
Citizens Resent Statements.
Statements made in Superior by Arthur Schaub of Mankato relative to the operation of the commission form of government have raised a storm of protest in that city. Letters are being received here from the various departments of Mankato showing how the commission form of government has succeeded in that city and that the bonded indebtedness was not caused by the new rule as claimed by Mr. Schaub in an address here last week.

Body Found in Cabin.
Deputy Coroner A. P. Le Sage left this morning for Bergh Park, where the body of James Hanley was found in a pool of blood in a deserted cabin. Mr. Le Sage will make an investigation into the case and when found in the cabin, was lying in a pool of blood which had flowed from several wounds.

Big Enrollment.
There are now 777 students enrolled in the Superior high schools. This is the highest point of attendance ever reached by the two high schools in this city, there being 38 more enrolled this year than in 1911. About 130 graduates of the grammar schools entered the high schools this week.

Trial Adjourned.
The preliminary examination of Dr. John Barnsdale, now being tried on the charge of manslaughter, was adjourned yesterday until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon because of the inability of an important witness, William Carlin, brother of the dead woman, to be present. The trial will be resumed on Monday and will give testimony during the trial telling of their experiences with such cases.

Elks Score Success.
The Elks last evening again presented their minstrel show at the Grand theater and scored a similar success to that of the first night. The proceeds of the two performances will be devoted to partly pay the expense of furnishing the new Elks home which will be dedicated Feb. 7.

WILL GIVE OTHER SIDE

Commercial Club Will Hear Arguments Against Lighting Bonds.

Council Will Be Asked to Prepare for Street Railway Extension.

Former State Senator C. O. Baldwin will be the principal speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club Friday evening.

He will speak on the municipal lighting question in behalf of the Duluth-Edison Electric company, which was invited by the club to send a representative to the meeting to present the company's side of the present controversy.

All West Duluth residents have been invited to attend the meeting and hear Mr. Baldwin on the proposed bond question. The city's side of the municipal bond issue was given recently by City Attorney Bert Foster. The club is not taking sides in the present controversy, but is anxious to hear both sides of the question.

One of the most important features of the business session Friday evening will be the request to the city for a hurried completion of the work on Grand and Commonwealth avenues so that the extension of the street railway to the suburbs may be begun this way.

Should the city take action it will necessitate the repair of the twenty-first avenue bridge and the eighty-second avenue bridge which was recently damaged by fire. The two bridges will both have to be strengthened and the work will be completed over them. Both bridges were built nearly twenty years ago and are made of timber.

The West Duluth Commercial club has passed a resolution which was sent to the city council requesting the board of public works to have the burned section of the eighty-second avenue bridge replaced by a fill instead of having it built in the old way. The city engineer, Mr. J. G. Gilvray, has made two reports for the repairing of the bridge. The estimated cost of the bridge reconstruction would be to fill it with dirt for sixty feet and use timber for the rest. The cost of timber for the bridge would be $10,000. The cost of the fill would be $5,000. A complete dirt fill would cost $5,000, which is accounted for by the great States at Muscatine, since which time the industry has grown to be of large proportions all along the Mississippi river.

STEEL ARRIVES FOR BIG BRIDGE

Construction of Largest Canadian Northern Trestle Is Started.

Eight carloads of steel girders for the new Canadian northern trestle at Central and Grand avenues arrived this morning and the construction of the bridge has been started. The bridge is the largest in the number extending from the fire station at Central avenue to the Northern Pacific tracks on the other side of Grand avenue.

Following the completion of this trestle, there are only two more small bridges to be built. The rails will then be laid to Forty-second avenue and a spur built from this intersection with the Northern Pacific tracks to the bay front at the foot of Forty-eighth avenue west. The company will then start work on its merchandise dock at this point.

Plans for this dock are already complete and they include facilities for the handling of ice and rail freight, an elevator and an ore dock. The construction of the ore dock and the necessary dredging to allow the docking of the large steamers is expected to take about two seasons.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The questions for the state board examinations in solid geometry and advanced algebra arrived this morning and were given to the students in room 205. There were seven questions on the paper with a choice of any five. Principal Young took charge of the examinations and many of the pupils took advantage of the opportunity to raise their grades and get the certificate of credit which entitles them to entrance into the state university.

Mr. Carllich, the state high school secretary of the Y. M. C. A. addressed the students in chapel this morning. Mr. Carllich's subject was: "Lop-sided People," which he illustrated with several incidents derived from his personal observations and experiences. He endeavored to impress upon the students the importance of acquiring a sound character, which he argued is more to be desired than advanced degrees.
